Dear [Redacted]:

Foxcroft School ("Foxcroft" or "we") values and respects the privacy of your information, which is why we are writing this follow up notice to advise you of a recent incident that may have involved some of your personal information. We have no reason to believe that your personal information has been misused for the purpose of committing fraud or identity theft. Nonetheless, we are writing to advise you of a recent security event involving a company called Blackbaud, Inc. ("Blackbaud") that may have involved information about you.

Over the years, Foxcroft, like many other schools, has contracted with Blackbaud to provide a variety of products that help us manage certain student, applicant, employee, and vendor data. As you may recall from our earlier communication about this breach, on July 16, 2020, Blackbaud notified us (as well as hundreds of other organizations that use its products) that it was impacted by a ransomware event. According to Blackbaud, ransomware was deployed within its environment in May 2020, and certain data was exfiltrated out of its systems between April 18, 2020 and May 7, 2020. At the time, Blackbaud first reported this to us in July, and to our relief, Blackbaud said that most of the exfiltrated data (including any data that might be considered sensitive) was encrypted and therefore not viewable by the unauthorized person even after it was exfiltrated.

On September 29, 2020, Blackbaud alerted us that its July report was incorrect. In this follow up notice, and to our frustration, Blackbaud explained that data it had initially thought was encrypted when exfiltrated was actually unencrypted and therefore viewable by the unauthorized party. This unencrypted data, Blackbaud reported, included certain individuals' Social Security numbers, financial account numbers, and tax identification numbers. Upon learning this new information from Blackbaud, we immediately began reviewing our internal records to identify who may have been affected. Our review concluded that your name and Social Security number were within the data set that the unauthorized person could have accessed.

While we are not aware of any fraudulent activity or misuse of any person's information as a result of the incident, we are writing to alert you of what happened and to encourage you to diligently monitor your personal accounts. Additionally, in an abundance of caution, we are offering a complimentary two year membership of Experian IdentityWorksSM Credit 3B. This product helps detect possible misuse of your personal information and provides you with identity protection services focused on immediate identification and resolution of identity theft. IdentityWorks Credit 3B is completely free to you, and enrolling in this program will not hurt your credit score. For more information on identity theft prevention and IdentityWorks Credit 3B, including instructions on how to activate your complimentary two-year membership, please see the additional information provided in this letter.

We value the trust you place in us and apologize for any inconvenience or concern this incident might cause. Please know that we are taking steps to help prevent this from happening again, including reviewing our relationship with Blackbaud and the technical controls that it has in place for securing our data. If you need further assistance, please call 1-833-468-1010 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Eastern Time, Monday – Friday.

Sincerely,

Under Massachusetts law, you have the right to obtain any police report filed in regard to this incident. If you are the victim of identity theft, you also have the right to file a police report and obtain a copy of it. Massachusetts law also allows consumers to place a security freeze on their credit reports. A security freeze can be placed without any charge. A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from a consumer's credit report without written authorization. However, please be aware that placing a security freeze on your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests you make for new loans, credit mortgages, employment, housing or other services.

To place a security freeze on your credit report, you must send a written request to each of the three major consumer reporting agencies by regular, certified or overnight mail at the addresses below or, if available, comply with the consumer reporting agencies' online security freeze request procedures:

The credit bureaus must also send written confirmation to you within five (5) business days and provide you with a unique personal identification number (PIN) or password, or both that can be used by you to authorize the removal or lifting of the security freeze.

To lift the security freeze in order to allow a specific entity or individual access to your credit report, you must call or send a written request to the credit reporting agencies by mail or, if available, comply with the consumer reporting agencies' online procedures for lifting a security freeze, and include proper identification (name, address, and social security number) and the PIN number or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze as well as the identities of those entities or individuals you would like to receive your credit report or the specific period of time you want the credit report available.
