NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

Dear Sample A Sample,

I am writing to let you know about a data security incident affecting Accellion, which was used by the Kroger Family of Companies and many other companies for secure file transfers. This incident involved your personal information. At this time, we have no indication of fraud or misuse of your personal information as a result of this incident. Nevertheless, we are notifying you to explain the circumstances as we understand them, and to make you aware of the steps we have taken to respond and the resources we are making available to you.

What Happened?

We were recently made aware of a data security incident affecting Accellion, which was used by the Kroger Family of Companies, as well as many other companies, for secure file transfers. Accellion has confirmed that an unauthorized person gained access to certain Kroger Family of Companies files by exploiting a vulnerability in Accellion's file transfer service. We learned that the Accellion incident impacted Kroger's files on January 23, 2021, took immediate action, and we discontinued use of Accellion's services and investigated the scope and impact of the incident. The incident was isolated to Accellion's services, and our own IT systems have not been affected by this incident. No grocery store data was impacted. However, the Accellion software was used for secure file transfers of certain Kroger associate benefit information.

What Information Was Involved?

Our investigation into the scope of the incident is ongoing. However, we believe impacted information may include names, contact information, date of birth, and benefits information from the Kroger Employee Health Plan including your plan, prescription ID and certain claims processing details. While grocery store systems or data were not impacted, customers of the Pharmacy or Little Clinic may receive a separate notice related to this incident if your pharmacy or clinic information was impacted.

What We Are Doing

The safety of your personal information is of utmost importance to us. We have discontinued the use of the Accellion service, reported the incident to federal law enforcement, and began an investigation to understand the scope and impact of the incident. In addition, we have arranged for any impacted associate to receive comprehensive credit monitoring and identity theft protection services through Experian for two years at no cost to you.

Additional Ways to Protect Your Identity: Important Identity Theft Information

Reviewing Your Accounts and Credit Reports

Be vigilant for the next 12 to 24 months for any suspicious account activity. Regularly review your account statements, and periodically obtain your credit report from one or more of the three national credit reporting companies. Those companies are:

You can obtain your credit report from each of those companies for free once every 12 months. Free reports are available online at www.annualcreditreport.com. You may also obtain a free report by calling toll free 1-877-322-8228, or by mailing an Annual Credit Report Request Form (available at www.annualcreditreport.com) to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA, 30348-5281. If you do not have any free credit reports left, you can still purchase a copy of your credit report by contacting one or more of the three credit reporting companies listed above.

Placing a Fraud Alert

A fraud alert tells lenders that they should verify your identification before they extend credit in your name. Each of the three nationwide credit reporting companies can place a fraud alert on your credit report. If you wish to place a fraud alert, contact any one of the three credit reporting companies listed above. As soon as one company confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place fraud alerts as well.

Requesting a Security Freeze on Your Credit Report

A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from your credit report without written authorization. Placing, lifting, or removing a security freeze is free of charge. To place a security freeze on your credit report, you must do so separately at each credit reporting company. The credit reporting companies do not notify each other about security freezes.

While a security freeze is in effect, it may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any request you make for new credit, loans, mortgages, employment, housing or other services that require a credit check. If you want to allow a credit check for those or other purposes, you will have to lift the security freeze by contacting each credit reporting company. Each credit reporting agency will provide you a PIN number or a password when you place a security freeze. You will need that PIN or password to lift the freeze, and should be careful to record it somewhere secure.

Suggestions if You Are a Victim of Identity Theft

If you find suspicious activity on your accounts or credit reports, or have other reason to believe your information is being misused, you should take the following steps:

File a Police Report. Get a copy of the report to submit to your creditors and others that may require proof of a crime.

Contact the U.S. Federal Trade Commission (FTC). The FTC provides useful information to identity theft victims and maintains a database of identity theft cases for use by law enforcement agencies. If you file an identity theft complaint with the FTC, your case will be added to that database. You can find more information and file a complaint online at www.IdentityTheft.gov. You can also file a complaint by calling the FTC's toll-free Identity Theft Hotline at 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), or by mail at Identity Theft Clearinghouse, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580. You may also wish to obtain a copy of Identity Theft: A Recovery Plan, a guide from the FTC to help you guard against and deal with identity theft. It is available online at https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/pdf-0009_identitytheft_a_recovery_plan.pdf.

Exercise Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). You have certain legal rights under the FCRA. These include, among others, the right to know what is in your file; to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information; and to have credit reporting companies correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. You can find more information about your rights under the FCRA online at www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/pdf-0096-fair-credit-reporting-act.pdf. The laws of your state may provide you with additional rights. Your state's attorney general or consumer protection department may be able to give you more information about your rights under state law.

Keep a record of your contacts. Start a file with copies of your credit reports, police reports, any correspondence, and copies of disputed bills. Keep a log of your conversations with creditors, law enforcement officials, credit reporting companies, and other relevant parties.

Additional Ways to Protect Your Identity: Important Identity Theft Information

Reviewing Your Accounts and Credit Reports

Be vigilant for the next 12 to 24 months for any suspicious account activity. Regularly review your account statements, and periodically obtain your credit report from one or more of the three national credit reporting companies. Those companies are:

---	---	---

You can obtain your credit report from each of those companies for free once every 12 months. Free reports are available online at www.annualcreditreport.com. You may also obtain a free report by calling toll free 1-877-322-8228, or by mailing an Annual Credit Report Request Form (available at www.annualcreditreport.com) to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA, 30348-5281. If you do not have any free credit reports left, you can still purchase a copy of your credit report by contacting one or more of the three credit reporting companies listed above.

Placing a Fraud Alert

A fraud alert tells lenders that they should verify your identification before they extend credit in your name. Each of the three nationwide credit reporting companies can place a fraud alert on your credit report. If you wish to place a fraud alert, contact any one of the three credit reporting companies listed above. As soon as one company confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place fraud alerts as well.

Requesting a Security Freeze on Your Credit Report

A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from your credit report without written authorization. Placing, lifting, or removing a security freeze is free of charge. To place a security freeze on your credit report, you must do so separately at each credit reporting company. The credit reporting companies do not notify each other about security freezes.

While a security freeze is in effect, it may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any request you make for new credit, loans, mortgages, employment, housing or other services that require a credit check. If you want to allow a credit check for those or other purposes, you will have to lift the security freeze by contacting each credit reporting company. Each credit reporting agency will provide you a PIN number or a password when you place a security freeze. You will need that PIN or password to lift the freeze, and should be careful to record it somewhere secure.

Suggestions if You Are a Victim of Identity Theft

If you find suspicious activity on your accounts or credit reports, or have other reason to believe your information is being misused, you should take the following steps:

File a Police Report. Get a copy of the report to submit to your creditors and others that may require proof of a crime.

Contact the U.S. Federal Trade Commission (FTC). The FTC provides useful information to identity theft victims and maintains a database of identity theft cases for use by law enforcement agencies. If you file an identity theft complaint with the FTC, your case will be added to that database. You can find more information and file a complaint online at www.IdentityTheft.gov. You can also file a complaint by calling the FTC's toll-free Identity Theft Hotline at 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), or by mail at Identity Theft Clearinghouse, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580. You may also wish to obtain a copy of Identity Theft: A Recovery Plan, a guide from the FTC to help you guard against and deal with identity theft. It is available online at https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/pdf-0009_identitytheft_a_recovery_plan.pdf.

Exercise Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). You have certain legal rights under the FCRA. These include, among others, the right to know what is in your file; to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information; and to have credit reporting companies correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. You can find more information about your rights under the FCRA online at www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/pdf-0096-fair-credit-reporting-act.pdf. The laws of your state may provide you with additional rights. Your state's attorney general or consumer protection department may be able to give you more information about your rights under state law.

Keep a record of your contacts. Start a file with copies of your credit reports, police reports, any correspondence, and copies of disputed bills. Keep a log of your conversations with creditors, law enforcement officials, credit reporting companies, and other relevant parties.

NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

Dear Sample A Sample,

I am writing to let you know about a data security incident affecting Accellion, which was used by the Kroger Family of Companies and many other companies for secure file transfers. This incident involved your personal information. At this time, we have no indication of fraud or misuse of your personal information as a result of this incident. Nevertheless, we are notifying you to explain the circumstances as we understand them, and to make you aware of the steps we have taken to respond and the resources we are making available to you.

What Happened?

We were recently made aware of a data security incident affecting Accellion, which was used by the Kroger Family of Companies, as well as many other companies, for secure file transfers. Accellion has confirmed that an unauthorized person gained access to certain Kroger Family of Companies files by exploiting a vulnerability in Accellion's file transfer service. We learned that the Accellion incident impacted Kroger's files on January 23, 2021, took immediate action, and we discontinued use of Accellion's services and investigated the scope and impact of the incident. The incident was isolated to Accellion's services, and our own IT systems have not been affected by this incident. No grocery store data was impacted. However, the Accellion software was used for secure file transfers of certain Human Resources and benefit information of some associates and former associates.

What Information Was Involved?

Our investigation into the scope of the incident is ongoing. However, we believe impacted information may include names, email address and other contact information, date of birth, Social Security number, and for some associates or former associates, may have also included certain salary information such as net and gross pay and withholdings. Your impacted information also may include benefits information from the Kroger Employee Health Plan, including your plan, prescription ID and certain claims processing details. While grocery store systems or data were not impacted, customers of the Pharmacy or Little Clinic may receive a separate notice related to this incident if your pharmacy or clinic information was impacted.

What We Are Doing

The safety of your personal information is of utmost importance to us. We have discontinued the use of the Accellion service, reported the incident to federal law enforcement, and began an investigation to understand the scope and impact of the incident. In addition, we have arranged for any impacted associate to receive comprehensive credit monitoring and identity theft protection services through Experian for two years at no cost to you.

Additional Ways to Protect Your Identity: Important Identity Theft Information

Reviewing Your Accounts and Credit Reports

Be vigilant for the next 12 to 24 months for any suspicious account activity. Regularly review your account statements, and periodically obtain your credit report from one or more of the three national credit reporting companies. Those companies are:

---	---	---

You can obtain your credit report from each of those companies for free once every 12 months. Free reports are available online at www.annualcreditreport.com. You may also obtain a free report by calling toll free 1-877-322-8228, or by mailing an Annual Credit Report Request Form (available at www.annualcreditreport.com) to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA, 30348-5281. If you do not have any free credit reports left, you can still purchase a copy of your credit report by contacting one or more of the three credit reporting companies listed above.

Placing a Fraud Alert

A fraud alert tells lenders that they should verify your identification before they extend credit in your name. Each of the three nationwide credit reporting companies can place a fraud alert on your credit report. If you wish to place a fraud alert, contact any one of the three credit reporting companies listed above. As soon as one company confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place fraud alerts as well.

Requesting a Security Freeze on Your Credit Report

A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from your credit report without written authorization. Placing, lifting, or removing a security freeze is free of charge. To place a security freeze on your credit report, you must do so separately at each credit reporting company. The credit reporting companies do not notify each other about security freezes.

While a security freeze is in effect, it may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any request you make for new credit, loans, mortgages, employment, housing or other services that require a credit check. If you want to allow a credit check for those or other purposes, you will have to lift the security freeze by contacting each credit reporting company. Each credit reporting agency will provide you a PIN number or a password when you place a security freeze. You will need that PIN or password to lift the freeze, and should be careful to record it somewhere secure.

Suggestions if You Are a Victim of Identity Theft

If you find suspicious activity on your accounts or credit reports, or have other reason to believe your information is being misused, you should take the following steps:

File a Police Report. Get a copy of the report to submit to your creditors and others that may require proof of a crime.

Contact the U.S. Federal Trade Commission (FTC). The FTC provides useful information to identity theft victims and maintains a database of identity theft cases for use by law enforcement agencies. If you file an identity theft complaint with the FTC, your case will be added to that database. You can find more information and file a complaint online at www.IdentityTheft.gov. You can also file a complaint by calling the FTC's toll-free Identity Theft Hotline at 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), or by mail at Identity Theft Clearinghouse, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580. You may also wish to obtain a copy of Identity Theft: A Recovery Plan, a guide from the FTC to help you guard against and deal with identity theft. It is available online at https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/pdf-0009_identitytheft_a_recovery_plan.pdf.

Exercise Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). You have certain legal rights under the FCRA. These include, among others, the right to know what is in your file; to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information; and to have credit reporting companies correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. You can find more information about your rights under the FCRA online at www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/pdf-0096-fair-credit-reporting-act.pdf. The laws of your state may provide you with additional rights. Your state's attorney general or consumer protection department may be able to give you more information about your rights under state law.

Keep a record of your contacts. Start a file with copies of your credit reports, police reports, any correspondence, and copies of disputed bills. Keep a log of your conversations with creditors, law enforcement officials, credit reporting companies, and other relevant parties.
