Dear Employee:

I regret to inform you of an inadvertent disclosure of employee data that originated from our Human Resources Group on March 16, 2021. The HR representative, who has authorized access to personal employee information, mistakenly attached an excel document to an email regarding benefits open enrollment without deleting personal information from the document. The e-mail was sent to approximately 100 company managers. These managers should not have had access to this information. Again, this information was released from inside our company and not as a result of a breach of our IT or security controls.

The information released contained Employee ID, Employee Name, Department, Position, Social Security Number, Date of Birth, Hire Date, Home Address, and Phone Number. The number of employees impacted in Massachusetts was 13. The file was sent to a limited number of recipients, and the data was located on a tab that would not have intuitively drawn the viewer to it. The unopened e-mails were recalled by the HR representative and the IT group deleted all copies of the e-mails that had already been open or were otherwise available for viewing to ensure that all electronic traces of the document were eliminated. We are very confident of the success of the elimination of the e-mail. Still, due to the sensitive nature of the information that was shared, we urge all impacted employees to monitor their credit closely.

You may obtain a copy of your credit report, free of charge, once every 12 months from each of the three nationwide credit reporting agencies.

Fraud Alert. You may place a fraud alert in your file by calling one of the three nationwide credit reporting agencies above. A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures, including contacting you before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts. For that reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but also may delay you when you seek to obtain credit.

Security Freeze. You have the ability to place a security freeze on your credit report.

A security freeze is intended to prevent credit, loans and services from being approved in your name without your consent. To place a security freeze on your credit report, you may be able to use an online process, an automated telephone line, or a written request to any of the three credit reporting agencies listed above. The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze (note that if you are requesting a credit report for your spouse, this information must be provided for him/her as well): (1) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (2) Social Security number; (3) date of birth; (4) current address and any previous addresses for the past five years; and (5) any applicable incident report or complaint with a law enforcement agency or the Registry of Motor Vehicles. The request must also include a copy of a government-issued identification card and a copy of a recent utility bill or bank or insurance statement. It is essential that each copy be legible, display your name and current mailing address, and the date of issue.

Federal Trade Commission and State Attorneys General Offices. If you believe you are the victim of identity theft or have reason to believe your personal information has been misused, you should immediately contact the Federal Trade Commission and/or the Attorney General's office in your home state. You may also contact these agencies for information on how to prevent or avoid identity theft.

You may contact the Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20580, www.ftc.gov/bcp/edu/microsites/idtheft/, 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338).

For Maryland residents: You may contact the Maryland Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, 200 St. Paul Place, Baltimore, MD 21202, www.oag.state.md.us, 1-888-743-0023.

Reporting of identity theft and obtaining a police report.

For Iowa residents: You are advised to report any suspected identity theft to law enforcement or to the Iowa Attorney General.

For Massachusetts residents: You have the right to obtain a police report if you are a victim of identity theft.

For Oregon residents: You are advised to report any suspected identity theft to law enforcement, the Federal Trade Commission, and the Oregon Attorney General.
