NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

Dear Sample A. Sample:

Equitrans Midstream Corporation (“Equitrans”) is writing to notify you of a cybersecurity incident that impacted an application used by our vendor Paycor, which provides payroll services to Equitrans. We are taking this matter very seriously and sincerely regret any concern it may cause you. On November 30, 2023, Paycor informed Equitrans that certain information, which included your personal information, was subject to unauthorized acquisition.

What Information Was Involved? This information may include name, date of birth, and Social Security Number.

What We Are Doing. Upon learning of the issue impacting Paycor, Equitrans took several steps, including contacting Paycor to try to understand the actions it was taking to address the MOVEit incident, launching its own investigation to try to determine which of its third party vendors that share data with Paycor may have used the MOVEit software to transfer data to Paycor and monitoring publicly available information regarding the vulnerability. Although this incident did not affect Equitrans systems directly, Equitrans continues to further enhance its security controls to protect against cyber breaches involving its suppliers and other cyber threats.

We also have arranged for you to obtain, at no cost to you, 24 months of credit monitoring services from Experian’s® IdentityWorks<sup>SM</sup>.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to sign up for the free credit monitoring and other services from Experian. Information about enrollment and service offerings is included in Attachment 1 to this letter. We also recommend that you remain vigilant by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for signs of suspicious activity. For More Information. We regret that this incident occurred. If you have questions or concerns regarding this matter, please contact 833-420-2829 toll-free, Monday through Friday between 9 am to 9 pm ET.

Sincerely,

Stephen M. Moore
Corporate Privacy Officer

Attachment 2: Additional Information

You should be cautious about using email to provide sensitive personal information, whether sending it yourself or in response to email requests. You should also be cautious when opening attachments and clicking on links in emails. Scammers sometimes use fraudulent emails or other communications to deploy malicious software on your devices or to trick you into sharing valuable personal information, such as account numbers, Social Security numbers, or usernames and passwords. The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) has provided guidance at <https://consumer.ftc.gov/articles/how-recognize-and-avoid-phishing-scams>.

You should review your financial statements and accounts for signs of suspicious transactions and activities. If you find any indication of unauthorized accounts or transactions, you should report the possible threat to local law enforcement, the Massachusetts Attorney General's office, or the FTC. You will find contact information for those entities below. You have the right to obtain a police report. If you discover unauthorized charges, promptly inform the relevant payment card companies and financial institutions.

Fraud Alert Information

Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the agencies listed below. The agency you contact will then contact the other two credit agencies.

Whether or not you enroll in the credit monitoring product offered, you also have the right to place an initial fraud alert on your file at no cost. An initial fraud alert lasts one (1) year and is placed on a consumer's credit file. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven (7) years. Fraud alert messages notify potential credit grantors to verify your identification before extending credit in your name in case someone is using your information without your consent. A fraud alert can make it more difficult for someone to get credit in your name; however, please be aware that it also may delay your ability to obtain credit.

Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the agencies listed below. The agency you contact will then contact the other two credit agencies. You may also contact any of the consumer reporting agencies or the FTC for more information regarding fraud alerts. The contact information for the three nationwide credit reporting agencies is:

Free Credit Report Information

You have rights under the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act. These include, among others, the right to know what is in your credit file; the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information; and the right to ask for a credit score. Under federal law, you are also entitled to one free credit report once every 12 months from each of the above three major nationwide credit reporting companies. Call 1-877-322-8228 or make a request online at www.annualcreditreport.com.

Even if you do not find any suspicious activity on your initial credit reports, we recommend that you check your account statements and credit reports periodically. You should remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft. Victim information sometimes is held for use or shared among a group of thieves at different times. Checking your credit reports periodically can help you spot problems and address them quickly.

If you find suspicious activity on your credit reports or have reason to believe your information is being misused, call your local law enforcement agency or the Massachusetts Attorney General, and file a police report. Get a copy of the report; many creditors want the information it contains to alleviate you of the fraudulent debts. You also should file a complaint with the FTC using the contact information below. Your complaint will be added to the FTC's Consumer Sentinel database, where it will be accessible to law enforcement for their investigations.

You may also contact the FTC at the contact information below to learn more about identity theft and the steps you can take to protect yourself and prevent such activity.

Security Freeze Information

You have the right to request a free security freeze (aka "credit freeze") on your credit file by contacting each of the three nationwide credit reporting companies via the channels outlined below. When a credit freeze is added to your credit report, third parties, such as credit lenders or other companies, whose use is not exempt under law will not be able to access your credit report without your consent. A credit freeze can make it more difficult for someone to get credit in your name; however, please be aware that it also may delay your ability to obtain credit. You may also contact any of the consumer reporting agencies or the FTC for more information regarding security freezes.

If you request a lift of the credit freeze online or by phone, then the credit reporting agency must lift the freeze within one (1) hour.
