NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

April XX, 2024

Dear [Name]:

At AT&T, we take the security of your data very seriously. We're writing to inform you that AT&T has determined that some of your personal information was compromised. To help protect your identity, we're offering you two years of complimentary credit monitoring, identity theft detection and resolution services provided by Experian's® IdentityWorksSM. While this service is free, you must follow the enclosed instructions to enroll.

What happened? On March 26, 2024, we determined that AT&T customer information was included in a dataset released on the dark web on March 17, 2024.

What information was involved? The information varied by individual and account, but may have included full name, email address, mailing address, phone number, social security number, date of birth, AT&T account number and AT&T passcode. To the best of our knowledge, personal financial information and call history were not included. Based on our investigation to date, the data appears to be from June 2019 or earlier.

What is AT&T doing to help? We're offering you the complementary credit monitoring, identity theft detection and resolution services described above. If you have an active account that was impacted, we've taken precautionary measures and reset your passcode. A passcode is a numerical PIN, usually four digits, used in addition to your password as an extra layer of protection for your account. Additionally, we launched a robust investigation supported by internal and external cybersecurity experts, and we are regularly reviewing and updating the measures we take to protect your information.

What can you do?

- Stay vigilant. We recommend that you review the enclosed Information About Identity Theft Protection and encourage you to remain vigilant by monitoring your personal accounts and credit reports for any suspicious activity. If you want to personalize your passcode we reset for you, you can do so online via myAT&T, MyAT&T app, or call customer care at 1-866-346-0416.
- Watch out for suspicious calls or emails. We also recommend that you remain alert for unsolicited communications seeking your personal information. You should be cautious about entering your username and password on links provided through emails, even if it looks like the company's website. The safest route is to go directly to the company's website to log in.

We apologize this has happened. We're committed to keeping your information secure.

Please do not hesitate to call us at 1-866-346-0416 Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. CST, or visit att.com/accountsafety if you have questions regarding this matter.

Sincerely,

AT&T

You should remain vigilant for incidents of fraud or identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports. When you receive your credit reports, review them carefully. Look for accounts or creditor inquiries that you did not initiate or do not recognize. Look for information, such as home address and Social Security number, that is not accurate. If you see anything you do not understand, call the credit reporting agency at the telephone number on the report.

You have rights under the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), which governs the collection and use of information about you by consumer reporting agencies. For more information about your rights under the FCRA, please visit www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/pdf-0096-fair-credit-reporting-act.pdf or www.ftc.gov.

Credit Freeze

You have the right to put a security freeze, also known as a credit freeze, on your credit file, so that no new credit can be opened in your name without the use of a Personal Identification Number (PIN) that is issued to you when you initiate a freeze. A credit freeze is designed to prevent potential credit grantors from accessing your credit report without your consent. If you place a credit freeze, potential creditors and other third parties will not be able to access your credit report unless you temporarily lift the freeze. Therefore, using a credit freeze may delay your ability to obtain credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact all three major consumer reporting agencies listed below.

You must separately place a credit freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting agency. The following information should be included when requesting a credit freeze:

- Full name, with middle initial and any suffixes;
- Social Security number;
- Date of birth (month, day, and year);
- Current address and previous addresses for the past five (5) years;
- Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
- Other personal information as required by the applicable credit reporting agency.

If you request a credit freeze online or by phone, then the credit reporting agencies have one business day after receiving your request to place a credit freeze on your credit file report. If you request a lift of the credit freeze online or by phone, then the credit reporting agency must lift the freeze within one hour. If you request a credit freeze or lift of a credit freeze by mail, then the credit agency must place or lift the credit freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

Fraud Alerts

You also have the right to place an initial or extended fraud alert on your file at no cost. An initial fraud alert lasts one year and is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the agencies listed below. The agency you contact will then contact the other two credit agencies.

Federal Trade Commission and State Attorneys General Offices

If you find suspicious activity on your credit reports or have reason to believe your information is being misused, call your local law enforcement agency or state Attorney General and file a police report; this notice was not delayed by law enforcement. Get a copy of the report; many creditors want the information it contains to alleviate you of the fraudulent debts. You also should file a complaint with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) using the contact information below. Your complaint will be added to the FTC's Consumer Sentinel database, where it will be accessible to law enforcement for their investigations.

You may also contact the FTC at Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20580, www.ftc.gov/bcp/edu/microsites/idtheft/, 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), to learn more about identity theft and the steps you can take to protect yourself and prevent such activity.

- Oregon residents are advised to report any suspected identity theft to law enforcement, including the FTC, and the Oregon Attorney General.
- North Carolina residents may also contact the North Carolina Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, 9001 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27699-9001, www.ncdoj.gov, 1-877-566-7226.

- Rhode Island residents may contact the Office of the Attorney General, 150 South Main Street, Providence, RI 02930, (401) 274-4400.

For New York Residents

New York residents can also consider placing a Security Freeze on their credit reports. A Security Freeze prevents most potential creditors from viewing your credit reports, further protecting against the opening of unauthorized accounts. Please note that credit reporting agencies may charge a fee to place a Security Freeze. For more information on placing a security freeze on your credit reports, please review the New York Department of State Division of Consumer Protection website at <https://dos.nysits.acsifactory.com/consumer-protection>.

When you receive a credit report from a credit reporting agency, review the report carefully. Look for accounts you did not open, inquiries from creditors that you did not initiate, and confirm that your personal information, such as home address and Social Security number, is accurate. If you see anything that you do not understand or recognize, call the credit reporting agency at the telephone number on the report. You should also call your local police department and file a report of identity theft. Finally, you should make sure to keep a copy of the police report in case you need to provide it to creditors or credit reporting agencies when accessing or disputing inaccurate information.

Even if you do not find signs of fraud on your credit reports, we recommend that you remain vigilant in reviewing your credit reports from the three major credit reporting agencies. You may obtain a free copy of your credit report once every 12 months by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com, calling toll-free 877-322-8228 or by completing an Annual Credit Request Form at: www.ftc.gov/bcp/menus/consumer/credit/rights.shtm and mailing to:
