RE: NOTICE OF POTENTIAL DATA BREACH

Dear <<first_name>> <<middle_name>> <<last_name>> <<suffix>>,

We are writing to inform you of an incident that may have impacted clients' personal information. While our investigation did not confirm that any client information was accessed or misused, we value your security and privacy and are notifying you out of an abundance of caution.

This letter contains information about what occurred and what we are doing to ensure the security of your personal data.

What Happened? On or before March 25, 2021, an unauthorized third party gained access to one NewSquare email account. The account may have contained client personal information that was shared in the regular course of conducting business.

What Information Was Involved? The account may have contained personal information including client names, Social Security numbers, and account numbers.

How Did NewSquare Respond? Upon discovering the incident, NewSquare promptly took steps to prevent any further access to the email account. We immediately engaged a forensic security firm to investigate and confirm the security of our email and computer systems. Upon confirming that the third party accessed the email account, we reviewed the account's contents to determine if they contained any personal information. As one of the individuals who may potentially have been affected, you are included in this notification.

We have taken additional steps to reduce the risk of this type of incident occurring in the future, including enhancing the oversight of our technical security measures.

What Resources Are We Offering? Again, at this time, there is no evidence that your personal information has been misused. However, we feel it is prudent to offer an added measure of protection for your security and peace of mind.

Although we are not aware of any instances of fraud or identity theft, we are offering a complimentary two-year membership of Experian IdentityWorksSM Credit 3B. This product helps detect possible misuse of your personal information and provides you with identity protection services focused on immediate identification and resolution of identity theft.

Under Massachusetts law, you have the right to obtain any police report filed in regard to this incident. If you are the victim of identity theft, you also have the right to file a police report and obtain a copy of it. Massachusetts law also allows consumers to place a security freeze on their credit reports. A security freeze can be placed without any charge. A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from a consumer's credit report without written authorization. However, please be aware that placing a security freeze on your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests you make for new loans, credit mortgages, employment, housing or other services.

To place a security freeze on your credit report, you must send a written request to each of the three major consumer reporting agencies by regular, certified or overnight mail at the addresses below or, if available, comply with the consumer reporting agencies' online security freeze request procedures:

Equifax Security Freeze

Trans Union Security Freeze

In order to request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information:

1. Your full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security Number;
3. Date of birth;
4. If you have moved in the past five (5) years, provide the addresses where you have lived over the prior five years;
5. Proof of current address such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, military identification, etc.); and
7. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

The credit reporting agencies have three (3) business days after receiving your request to place a security freeze on your credit report. The credit bureaus must also send written confirmation to you within five (5) business days and provide you with a unique personal identification number (PIN) or password, or both that can be used by you to authorize the removal or lifting of the security freeze.

To lift the security freeze in order to allow a specific entity or individual access to your credit report, you must call or send a written request to the credit reporting agencies by mail or, if available, comply with the consumer reporting agencies' online procedures for lifting a security freeze, and include proper identification (name, address, and social security number) and the PIN number or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze as well as the identities of those entities or individuals you would like to receive your credit report or the specific period of time you want the credit report available. The credit reporting agencies have three (3) business days after receiving your request to lift the security freeze for those identified entities or for the specified period of time.

To remove the security freeze, you must send a written request to each of the three credit bureaus by mail or, if available, comply with the consumer reporting agencies' online procedures for removing a security freeze, and include proper identification (name, address, and social security number) and the PIN number or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze.
