Notice of Data Security Incident

Dear <<FirstName>> <<LastName>>,

We wanted to let you know about a data security incident experienced by PFU America, Inc. ("PFU") (subsidiary of PFU Limited) that may have impacted a limited amount of your personal information, including your name and payment card information. We take the privacy and security of your information seriously, and sincerely apologize for any inconvenience this may cause you. This letter provides additional information as well as resources and steps you can take to protect your information. It appears information provided to us by you for the purchase of goods at fujitsuscannerstore.com was accessed or acquired by an unauthorized third party. The impacted data included your name, billing and shipping addresses, credit or debit card number, expiration date, and security code or CVV.

The privacy and security of your information is important to us. Since learning of the incident, we implemented additional access controls, required our e-commerce hosting vendor to conduct a scan of the site to ensure the site is clean, and are investigating whether there are other controls that can be implemented to increase the security of our e-commerce site.

We are also offering identity theft protection services through IDX, the data breach and recovery services expert, at no charge to you. Massachusetts law also allows consumers to place a security freeze on their credit reports. A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from a consumer's credit report without written authorization. However, please be aware that placing a security freeze on your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests you make for new loans, credit mortgages, employment, housing or other services.

Placing a freeze on your credit report is now free for all United States citizens. To place a security freeze on your credit report, each of the three major consumer credit reporting agencies have a dedicated web page for security freezes and fraud alerts:

Equifax: <https://www.equifax.com/personal/credit-report-services/credit-freeze/>

Experian: <https://www.experian.com/freeze/center.html>

TransUnion: <https://www.transunion.com/credit-freeze>

You can also request a freeze by phone or by mail to each of the three major consumer reporting agencies: Equifax (www.equifax.com); Experian (www.experian.com) and TransUnion (www.transunion.com) by regular, certified or overnight mail at the addresses below:

If a request is made online or by phone then the credit reporting agency must put the freeze in place no later than the next business day. In order to request a security freeze, you may need to provide the following information:

1. Your full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);

6. A legible photocopy of a government issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, military identification, etc.);
7. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft;

If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one (1) hour. If the request is made by mail, the credit reporting agencies have three (3) business days after receiving your request to place a security freeze on your credit report. The credit bureaus must also send written confirmation to you within five (5) business days and provide you with a unique personal identification number (PIN) or password, or both that can be used by you to authorize the removal or lifting of the security freeze.

To lift the security freeze in order to allow a specific entity or individual access to your credit report, you must go to the website provided above, call the toll-free number, or send a written request to the credit reporting agencies by mail. You will need proper identification (name, address, date of birth and social security number). Depending on the method you use, a PIN or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze may be required as well. You may also need to identify the entities or individuals you would like to receive your credit report or the specific period of time you want the credit report available.

To remove the security freeze, you must go to the websites provided above, call the toll-free number, or send a written request to each of the three credit bureaus by mail. You will need proper identification (name, address, date of birth and social security number). Depending on the credit reporting agency and method you used to freeze your credit, a PIN or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze may be required or requested.

You should remain vigilant and monitor your credit and debit card statements for any suspicious activity. If you identify suspicious activity, immediately contact your financial institution. You can find more tips for protecting your identity at www.consumer.gov/idtheft. We also encourage you to contact IDX with any questions and to take full advantage of the IDX service offering.
