NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

Dear [NAME]:

Stadium Capital Management, LLC ("Stadium") writes to inform you of an incident that may impact some of your information. We are providing you with notice of the incident, steps we are taking in response, and resources available to help protect against the possibility of identity theft and fraud, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On September 8, 2021, Stadium identified suspicious activity relating to an employee's email account. We immediately took steps to secure all firm email accounts and launched an investigation to determine the nature and scope of the incident. This investigation confirmed the unauthorized access was limited to the one impacted employee email account, from July 29, 2021 to September 8, 2021. Further, the investigation sought to track the activities of the unauthorized individual while the account was compromised. All observed activities of this individual related specifically to personal information of the affected employee. There were no observed actions relating to Stadium. Based on this investigation, we do not believe any email was forwarded from the impacted email account by the unauthorized individual; however, our investigation was unable to determine whether any specific email or attachment within that impacted email account was accessed, viewed, or downloaded by the unauthorized individual. Therefore, out of an abundance of caution, we subsequently conducted a comprehensive review of the impacted email account to identify any emails or attachments containing sensitive or protected information.

What Information Was Involved? On or about November 22, 2021, we completed our review of the contents of the impacted email account. This review identified information related to certain Stadium contacts, including certain information about you that may have potentially been impacted, such as your name and social security number information. To date, Stadium has no evidence of actual or attempted misuse of your information.

What We Are Doing. Stadium takes the confidentiality, privacy, and security of information in our possession very seriously. Upon becoming aware of the suspicious activity, we immediately took steps to secure the impacted email account and launched an investigation in accordance with our established policies and procedures. We also reported the unauthorized access to law enforcement, and we will cooperate in any law enforcement investigation. As part of our ongoing commitment to the privacy and security of personal information in our care, we are further reviewing our existing security measures, policies, and procedures relating to data protection and security for any additional enhancements to help prevent incidents of a similar nature from occurring in the future.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-890-9332. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended "fraud alert" on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a "credit freeze" on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer's express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
