RE: Notice of Data Breach

Dear XXXXXXXXXX,

I am writing to inform you of a recent data security incident experienced by Bolton Global Capital, Inc. (“Bolton Global Capital”) involving your personal information. Bolton Global Capital is an independent broker dealer offering wealth management services across all 50 U.S. states. Please read this letter carefully as it contains information about the incident, our response efforts, the type of information involved, and steps you can take to help protect your personal information.

What Happened: On September 8, 2021, Bolton Global discovered suspicious activity on its systems. In response, Bolton Global immediately began containment, mitigation, and restoration efforts to terminate the activity and to secure its network, systems, and data. In addition, Bolton Global retained independent cybersecurity experts to conduct a forensic investigation into the incident and to assist in determining what happened.

The forensic investigation revealed that an unknown third party had access to certain systems on Bolton Global’s network from August 12, 2021 to September 9, 2021. Based on this finding, Bolton Global worked diligently to identify the potentially affected files and review the information contained in these files. On or about February 8, 2022, Bolton Global determined that the potentially impacted files contained some of Bolton Global’s customer information. Please note that we have no indication that these files or the information contained in the files has been sold, published, shared, or otherwise misused as a result of this incident. Nevertheless, we wanted to notify you of the incident and provide resources to help protect your information.

What Information Was Involved: The data involved varies depending on the individual, but it may include the following information: Driver's License Number; Financial / Bank Account Number; Social Security Number (SSN). Again, we have no indication that this information has been sold, published, shared, or otherwise misused as a result of this incident.

What We Are Doing: Following the immediate steps described above, we implemented additional security measures to further harden our digital environment to minimize the likelihood of future incidents. We also reported the incident to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and we are committed to providing whatever cooperation is necessary to help identify and prosecute those responsible.

In addition, we are offering you 12 months of complimentary identity theft protection services through IDX, a data breach and identity recovery services expert. The identity protection services include credit and CyberScan monitoring, a $1,000,000 insurance reimbursement policy, and fully managed id theft recovery services at no cost to you. To receive these services, you must be over the age of 18 and have a Social Security number, an established credit file, and a residential address in the United States that is associated with your credit file.

Steps You Can Take to Protect Your Personal Information

Review Your Account Statements and Notify Law Enforcement of Suspicious Activity: As a precautionary measure, we recommend that you remain vigilant by reviewing your account statements and credit reports closely. If you detect any suspicious activity on an account, you should promptly notify the financial institution or company with which the account is maintained. You also should promptly report any fraudulent activity or any suspected incidence of identity theft to proper law enforcement authorities, your state attorney general, and/or the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

Copy of Credit Report: You may obtain a free copy of your credit report from each of the three major credit reporting agencies once every 12 months by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com/, calling toll-free 1-877-322-8228, or by completing an Annual Credit Report Request Form and mailing it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348. You also can contact one of the following three national credit reporting agencies:

Equifax

P.O. Box 105851
Atlanta, GA 30348
1-800-525-6285
www.equifax.com

Experian

Allen, TX 75013

TransUnion

Chester, PA 19016

Fraud Alert: You may want to consider placing a fraud alert on your credit report. An initial fraud alert is free and will stay on your credit file for at least one year. The alert informs creditors of possible fraudulent activity within your report and requests that the creditor contact you prior to establishing any accounts in your name. To place a fraud alert on your credit report, contact any of the three credit reporting agencies identified above. Additional information is available at www.annualcreditreport.com.

Security Freeze: You have the right to put a security freeze on your credit file for up to one year at no cost. This will prevent new credit from being opened in your name without the use of a PIN number that is issued to you when you initiate the freeze. A security freeze is designed to prevent potential creditors from accessing your credit report without your consent. As a result, using a security freeze may interfere with or delay your ability to obtain credit. You must separately place a security freeze on your credit file with each credit reporting agency. In order to place a security freeze, you may be required to provide the consumer reporting agency with information that identifies you including your full name, Social Security number, date of birth, current and previous addresses, a copy of your state-issued identification card, and a recent utility bill, bank statement or insurance statement.

Additional Free Resources: You can obtain information from the consumer reporting agencies, the FTC, or from your respective state Attorney General about fraud alerts, security freezes, and steps you can take toward preventing identity theft. You may report suspected identity theft to local law enforcement, including to the FTC or to the Attorney General in your state.
