Ad Astra Eye LLC (“Ad Astra Eye”) values and respects the privacy of your information, which is why we are writing to advise you of a recent incident that occurred at one of our vendors Eye Care Leaders (“ECL”). ECL is a third-party vendor that stores Ad Astra Eye’s electronic patient medical records.

While we do not have any evidence that your information has been misused, we are writing to advise you about the incident as required by law, and to provide you with guidance on steps you can take, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

If you have any questions about this incident, please call our incident response hotline at [number] Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Central Time, excluding major U.S. holidays. This is a special phone bank set up to answer questions about the incident.

What Happened? ECL is a third-party service provider that stores electronic patient medical records and related information for Ad Astra Eye. ECL recently notified us and many other eye care providers that on December 4, 2021, an unknown third party accessed its network and may have deleted certain files stored by ECL in ECL’s myCare Integrity EMR (Electronic Medical Records). ECL has advised us that upon discovering the incident, ECL contained the incident, notified law enforcement, conducted an investigation, and began restoring data from backups where available.

On March 1, 2022, ECL notified us at Ad Astra Eye that this incident may have involved unauthorized access to protected health information or other personal information. Although ECL has not identified evidence confirming unauthorized access, acquisition, or disclosure of any personal information or protected health information, ECL has indicated they cannot rule out the possibility that the third party may have accessed or acquired information stored within ECL’s myCare Integrity EMR. As a result, we are notifying all of our patients who had personal information stored by myCare Integrity EMR. We do not have any evidence of harm as a result of this incident.

What Information Was Involved? To the extent your information was stored in ECL’s myCare Integrity EMR, the incident may have involved unauthorized access or acquisition of your name, address, telephone number, date of birth, Social Security number, and medical treatment and diagnosis information.

What We Are Doing. We are reviewing our relationship with ECL and the technical controls they have in place for securing our patients’ information. ECL has assured us that it has engaged third party experts and implemented additional measures to secure and monitor its environment. Although we are not aware of any instances of fraud or identity theft involving your information, we are offering a complimentary two-year membership of Experian IdentityWorks<sup>SM</sup> Credit 3B. This product helps detect possible misuse of your personal information and provides you with identity protection services focused on immediate identification and resolution of identity theft. IdentityWorks Credit 3B is completely free to you, and enrolling in this program will not hurt your credit score. For information on how to activate your complimentary two-year membership and on identity theft prevention, please see the additional information provided in this letter.

If you detect any suspicious activity on an account, you should promptly notify the financial institution or company with which the account is maintained. You should also promptly report any fraudulent activity or any suspected incidents of identity theft to proper law enforcement authorities, including the police and your state's attorney general, as well as the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC").

You may wish to review the tips provided by the FTC on fraud alerts, security/credit freezes and steps you can take to avoid identity theft. Under Massachusetts law, you have the right to obtain any police report filed in regard to this incident. If you are the victim of identity theft, you also have the right to file a police report and obtain a copy of it. Massachusetts law also allows consumers to place a security freeze on their credit reports. A security freeze can be placed without any charge. A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from a consumer's credit report without written authorization. However, please be aware that placing a security freeze on your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests you make for new loans, credit mortgages, employment, housing or other services.

To place a security freeze on your credit report, you must send a written request to each of the three major consumer reporting agencies by regular, certified or overnight mail at the addresses below or, if available, comply with the consumer reporting agencies' online security freeze request procedures:

7. If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft.

The credit reporting agencies have three (3) business days after receiving your request to place a security freeze on your credit report. The credit bureaus must also send written confirmation to you within five (5) business days and provide you with a unique personal identification number (PIN) or password, or both that can be used by you to authorize the removal or lifting of the security freeze.

To lift the security freeze in order to allow a specific entity or individual access to your credit report, you must call or send a written request to the credit reporting agencies by mail or, if available, comply with the consumer reporting agencies' online procedures for lifting a security freeze, and include proper identification (name, address, and social security number) and the PIN number or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze as well as the identities of those entities or individuals you would like to receive your credit report or the specific period of time you want the credit report available. The credit reporting agencies have three (3) business days after receiving your request to lift the security freeze for those identified entities or for the specified period of time.
