NOTICE OF [Extra2]

Dear Sample A. Sample:

Infinity Title Solutions (“Infinity”) is writing to notify you of a recent incident that may involve some of your information. Although at this time there is no indication that your information has been fraudulently misused in relation to this event, we are providing you with information about the event, our response to it, and steps you may take to protect your information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On June 2, 2022, we became aware of suspicious activity relating to one (1) employee’s email account. Infinity immediately took steps to secure the email account and launched an investigation with the assistance of third-party forensic specialists to determine the nature and scope of the activity. Infinity determined that an unauthorized actor gained access to the employee’s email account for various periods of time between April 13, 2022, and June 8, 2022.

Although the investigation was unable to confirm whether the unknown actor viewed any emails or attachments while in the account, we could not rule out the possibility that some information contained within the account may have been impacted. Therefore, out of an abundance of caution, we undertook a comprehensive review of all of the emails and attachments that could have been impacted to identify whether sensitive information was contained therein and to whom the information relates. This review was recently completed, and we determined that your information was present in the impacted email account. Although there is no evidence that an unauthorized actor has misused your information, we are providing you this notice out of an abundance of caution.

What Information Was Involved? Our investigation determined that at the time of the incident, your name and [Extra1] were stored within the impacted email account. To date, Infinity has not received any reports of fraudulent misuse of your information.

What We Are Doing. As soon as we detected suspicious activity, we worked diligently to investigate the incident and further secure our systems. The confidentiality, privacy, and security of your information are among our highest priorities, and Infinity is committed to protecting your information. As part of this commitment, we are reviewing and strengthening our existing policies, procedures, and systems related to cyber security. We reported this event to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and notified certain state regulators, as necessary.

Although we have no evidence of any fraudulent misuse of your information as a result of this incident, as an additional precaution, we arranged to have Experian provide identity monitoring services to you for 2 years at no cost to you. Please review the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Protect Personal Information for instructions on how to enroll in these services.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
