Notice of Data <<Event/Breach>>

Dear &lt;&lt;FIRST NAME&gt;&gt; &lt;&lt;LAST NAME&gt;&gt;:

Overby-Seawell Company (“OSC”) writes to notify you of an incident that affected the privacy of some of your information. OSC is a vendor that provides property insurance validation for banks and lenders, including Fulton Bank, N.A. To perform these services, OSC was provided certain information related to a property you own or a loan for which you co-signed. This letter includes details of the incident, our response, and steps you may take to better protect against possible misuse of your information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On July 5, 2022, OSC discovered suspicious activity on certain computer systems. We immediately launched an investigation with the assistance of third-party forensic specialists to determine the nature and scope of the activity. Our investigation determined that there was unauthorized access to specific OSC servers beginning on May 26, 2022. We learned on July 11, 2022, that certain information was stolen from OSC’s network. OSC undertook a review of the impacted files and later determined that those files contained certain information related to you. Fulton Bank’s business systems were not impacted by the incident.

What Information Was Involved? OSC determined that the following information related to you was present within the impacted files: your name, loan number, mailing address, collateral address, telephone number, loan amount, loan maturity date, and insurance policy information. Your social security number was also contained in those files.

What We Are Doing. Upon discovery, we immediately commenced an investigation to confirm the nature and scope of the incident. We reported this incident to law enforcement and are cooperating and assisting in the investigation. We are taking steps to implement additional safeguards and review policies and procedures relating to data privacy and security.

As an added precaution, we are also offering you complimentary access to 24 months of credit monitoring and related services through IDX. You will need to enroll yourself in these services if you wish to do so, as we are not able to activate the services on your behalf. Please review the instructions contained in the attached Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Personal Information for additional detail on these services.

What You Can Do. OSC encourages you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud over the next 12 to 24 months by reviewing your account statements and monitoring free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. You can review the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Personal Information for additional details on how to take steps to protect your information, should you feel it is necessary to do so.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1- year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
