Re: NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

August 9, 2023

Dear <<FirstNameOrInitial>> <<MiddleNameOrInitial>> <<LastName>>>,

We recently learned of a cybersecurity incident that occurred at one of our vendors – R.R. Donnelley & Sons Company (“RRD”), which fulfills some of our mailings – as part of a 2019 regulatory mailing. Because we believe that you were once a client of Signator Investors, Capital One Investing, or Questar Asset Management, Inc. which Osaic acquired in 2018, it is possible that some of your personal information, such as name, address, and social security number, was accessed. We understand this news may be concerning, but we are committed to communicating with you transparently and helping you mitigate any risk.

WHAT HAPPENED?

On December 23, 2021, RRD identified a systems intrusion in its technical environment. RRD promptly implemented a series of containment measures to address this situation, including activating incident response protocols, shutting down servers and systems, and commencing a forensic investigation. RRD’s investigation revealed that your personal information appeared to have been included in the data that was exfiltrated from its corporate data system, and it notified us of such on January 17, 2023. On June 7, 2023, we learned that your information was provided to RRD in connection with a regulatory mailing that occurred in December 2019.

WHAT INFORMATION WAS INVOLVED?

The personal information that was exfiltrated from RRD’s corporate data system included your name, address, <<AffectedPII>>.

WHAT WE ARE DOING.

Shortly after discovering the intrusion, RRD engaged forensic resources and third parties to assist in its evaluation of the intrusion and shut down all impacted servers. RRD believes to the best of its knowledge that the intrusion has been removed, and we have worked with RRD to ensure it has implemented proper data protection safeguards to better protect against future incidents.

WHAT YOU CAN DO.

At this time, we are not aware of any misuse of the exfiltrated information. As a precautionary measure, we encourage you to remain vigilant for incidence of fraud and identity theft by carefully reviewing account statements over the next 12 to 24 months, monitoring free credit reports, and promptly reporting any suspicious activity. Additionally, we have arranged for you to enroll, at your option, in a <<Term>> membership of Experian’s® IdentityWorksSM at no cost to you. ADDITIONAL STEPS TO PROTECT YOURSELF

Directions for Placing a Fraud Alert

You may want to consider placing an initial fraud alert on your credit file. A fraud alert tells creditors to contact you before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts.

Fraud Alerts: There are also two types of fraud alerts that can be placed on credit reports to put creditors on notice that a consumer may be a victim of fraud: an initial alert and an extended alert. Consumers may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on their credit report if they suspect they have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on credit reports for at least one year. An extended alert may be placed on credit reports if consumers have already been a victim of identity theft, with the appropriate documentary proof, and stays on credit reports for seven years. Consumers may place a fraud alert on their credit reports by contacting the toll-free fraud number of any of the three national credit reporting agencies listed below.

Credit Freezes: Consumers have the right to place a credit freeze or security freeze (referred to as "credit freeze") on their consumer reports. A credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans and services from being approved in a consumer's name without the consumer's consent. Using a credit freeze, however, may delay ability to obtain credit. Consumers may request that a freeze be placed on credit reports by sending a request to a credit reporting agency on-line or by certified mail, overnight mail or regular stamped mail to the three national reporting agencies listed below. Unlike a fraud alert, a credit freeze must be separately placed on a consumer's credit file at each credit reporting company. More information can be obtained about fraud alerts and credit freezes by contacting the FTC or one of the national credit reporting agencies listed below.

How to Place an Alert: You may place a fraud alert in your file by calling one of the three nationwide credit reporting agencies. The agency that processes your fraud alert will notify the other two credit reporting agencies on your behalf. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for 90 days. When you place this alert on your credit report, you will receive information about ordering one free credit report from each of the credit reporting companies. Once you receive your reports, review them carefully for inquiries from companies you did not contact, accounts you did not open, and debts on your accounts that you cannot explain. Verify the accuracy of your Social Security number, address(es), full name and employer(s). Notify the credit reporting companies if any information is incorrect.

Directions for Obtaining a Credit Report

Please remember that while this matter may not involve significant risk, it is always good practice to take sensible steps to protect yourself by regularly reviewing your account statements and your credit report.
