Dear Patient,

You are receiving this letter because the patient listed above received services from MercyOne Clinton (“MercyOne Clinics”). MercyOne Clinics is writing to inform you of a recent incident that may impact the privacy of certain information provided to us. In an abundance of caution, we are providing you information about the incident, our response, and steps you can take to help protect your information.

On April 4, 2023, MercyOne Clinics experienced a network disruption that impacted certain systems and immediately began an investigation with the assistance of third-party specialists. The investigation determined that portions of our network were accessed by an unknown and unauthorized party between March 7, 2023 and April 4, 2023. Additionally, as a result, we may be unable to fully restore a limited amount of certain information. Therefore, we conducted a review of the information potentially impacted to determine the type of information and to whom it related. Although our review is ongoing, on May 23, 2023, we determined your information may be impacted by this incident. The types of information may include your name and the following: address, date of birth, driver’s license/state identification number, Social Security number, financial account information, medical record number, encounter number, Medicare or Medicaid identification number, mental or physical treatment/condition information, diagnosis code/information, date of service, admission/discharge date, prescription information, billing/claims information, personal representative or guardian name, and health insurance information.

Upon discovery, we immediately engaged third-party specialists to investigate this matter and assist with our response. We are also reviewing our policies and procedures related to data protection and taking additional technical steps to recreate data unable to be fully restored. Although we currently have no evidence of misuse of information, we are offering potentially impacted individuals access to credit monitoring and identity protection services. Information about how to enroll in the complimentary credit monitoring and identity protection services and additional resources available to you are provided in the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Protect Information.

We deeply regret any concern this incident may cause you. If you have questions, you may contact our dedicated assistance line at 1-888-220-5301, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. CT (excluding major U.S. holidays).

Under federal law, you also are entitled every 12 months to one free copy of your credit report from each of the three major credit reporting companies. To obtain a free annual credit report, go to www.annualcreditreport.com or call 1-877-322-8228. You may wish to stagger your requests so that you receive a free report by one of the three credit bureaus every four months.

If you file a request for help or report suspicious activity, you will be contacted by a member of our ID Care team who will help you determine the cause of the suspicious items. In the unlikely event that you fall victim to identity theft as a consequence of this incident, you will be assigned an ID Care Specialist who will work on your behalf to identify, stop and reverse the damage quickly.

Monitor Your Accounts

We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your credit reports/account statements and explanation of benefits forms for suspicious activity and to detect errors. Under U.S. law, you are entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, TransUnion, Experian, and Equifax. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call 1-877-322-8228. Once you receive your credit report, review it for discrepancies and identify any accounts you did not open or inquiries from creditors that you did not authorize. If you have questions or notice incorrect information, contact the credit reporting bureau.

You have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, you have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without your express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a credit freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Address for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (e.g., state driver's license or identification card); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft, if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a fraud alert or credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
