Re: Notice of Data Security Incident:

Dear Customer:

On Thursday June 22, we shared via email that personal information for a segment of Umpqua's customers was accessed due to a third-party vendor's exposure in the global MOVEit Transfer cybersecurity incident. Our investigation has unfortunately revealed that your name and Social Security number were involved in this incident. No banking information was involved, and you should continue to bank as you always do. We understand this news is frustrating and apologize for the inconvenience.

Your relationship with us is very important and safeguarding your personal and financial information is a responsibility we take seriously. We have been working closely with the involved vendor to provide 24 months of identity monitoring and theft resolution services to you at no charge. Additionally, you now have access to a toll-free dedicated call center to address questions related to the incident.

We have no evidence at this time that your personal information has been used in an unauthorized way, but we are sending this letter to:

- Communicate what happened.
- Identify the personal information involved.
- Provide details on how to enroll in 24 months of identity monitoring and theft resolution services we are offering to you at no charge.

What Happened

On May 31, 2023, Progress Software reported a previously unknown vulnerability in its MOVEit Transfer tool. Thousands of companies, including one of our third-party vendors, use this file transfer tool to move data files. This vendor provides technology services to many of the world's leading banks, including Umpqua. Upon notification, the vendor immediately suspended use of the MOVEit Transfer tool, and it remained disabled until they received and implemented a software patch to remediate the issue. Our vendor also launched an immediate investigation working alongside cyber experts and appropriate law enforcement agencies. On June 21, 2023, the vendor notified us that an unauthorized third party potentially accessed certain files transferred through MOVEit Transfer that contained some Umpqua Bank customer information. We then worked diligently to review the files, identify current contact information, and notify our potentially involved customers.

There is no evidence at this time that your personal information has been used in an unauthorized way.

What Information Was Involved

The personal information involved included your name and Social Security number.

What We Are Doing

Safeguarding your personal information is always our highest priority. Once Umpqua was notified of the MOVEit vulnerability, we took immediate action to confirm the security of our systems and implemented steps to further protect customer data, including launching an investigation into potential exposure among our third-party service providers.

When we learned about the potential involvement of Umpqua Bank customer information in the MOVEit Transfer incident, we immediately worked with our vendor to ensure that they had resolved the vulnerability to keep our customer information safe following the incident and moving forward. We can confirm that, upon learning of the incident, the vendor took steps to secure their environment and that they have further validated that security using a third-party forensics firm.

REFERENCE GUIDE

In the event that you suspect that you are a victim of identity theft, we encourage you to remain vigilant and consider taking the following steps: Order Your Free Credit Report. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com, call toll-free at 877-322-8228, or complete the Annual Credit Report Request Form on the U.S. Federal Trade Commission's website at www.ftc.gov and mail it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348-5281. Do not contact the three credit bureaus individually; they provide your free report only through the website or toll-free number.

When you receive your credit report, review the entire report carefully. Look for any inaccuracies and/or accounts you don't recognize and notify the credit bureaus as soon as possible in the event there are any.

You have rights under the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act ("FCRA"). These include, among others, the right to know what is in your file; to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information; and to have consumer reporting agencies correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. For more information about the FCRA, please visit <https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/pdf-0096-fair-credit-reporting-act.pdf> or www.ftc.gov.

Place a Fraud Alert on Your Credit or Consumer File. To protect yourself from possible identity theft, consider placing a fraud alert on your credit file. A fraud alert helps protect you against the possibility of an identity thief opening new credit accounts in your name. When a merchant checks the credit history of someone applying for credit, the merchant gets a notice that the applicant may be a victim of identity theft. The alert notifies the merchant to take steps to verify the identity of the applicant. You can report potential identity theft to all three of the major credit bureaus by calling any one of the toll-free fraud numbers below. You will reach an automated telephone system that allows you to flag your file with a fraud alert at all three bureaus. You can flag your consumer file with ChexSystems online by visiting the website and registering for a Secure Consumer Portal Account or call the toll-free number below for more information.

Place a Security Freeze on Your Credit or Consumer File. You have the right to place a "security freeze" on your credit file. A security freeze generally will prevent creditors from accessing your credit file at the three nationwide credit bureaus without your consent. You can request a security freeze free of charge by contacting the credit bureaus. You can also place a security freeze on your ChexSystems consumer file by contacting ChexSystems directly.

The consumer reporting agencies may require that you provide proper identification prior to honoring your request. In order to request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

- Your full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.)
- Social Security number
- Date of birth
- If you have moved in the past five (5) years, provide the addresses where you have lived over the prior five years.
- Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill
- A legible photocopy of a government issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, military identification, etc.)
- If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to law enforcement agency concerning identity theft

Placing a security freeze on your file may delay, interfere with, or prevent timely approval of any requests you make for credit, loans, employment, housing or other services. For more information regarding credit freezes, please contact the credit reporting agencies directly.

Contact the U.S. Federal Trade Commission. If you detect any incident of identity theft or fraud, promptly report the incident to your local law enforcement authorities, your state Attorney General and the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC"). If you believe your identity has been stolen, the FTC recommends that you take these additional steps.

- Close the accounts that you have confirmed or believe have been tampered with or opened fraudulently. Use the FTC's ID Theft Affidavit (available at www.ftc.gov/idtheft) when you dispute new unauthorized accounts.
- File a local police report. Obtain a copy of the police report and submit it to your creditors and any others that may require proof of the identity theft crime.
