RE: NOTICE OF A DATA INCIDENT

Dear <<Name 1>>:

We are writing to inform you of a recent data security incident involving the compromise of one of First Fed Bank's business partner's secure file transfer tools used to send some of your personal information. At this time, we have no reason to believe that your personal information has been misused for the purpose of committing fraud or identity theft. Nevertheless, we want to provide you with guidance on what you can do to protect yourself, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On May 31, 2023, Progress Software reported a previously unknown vulnerability in its MOVEit secure file transfer tool. Thousands of companies, including one of our business partners, Darling Consulting Group ("DCG"), use this file transfer tool to securely transfer data files. Upon notification, DCG immediately suspended use of the MOVEit Transfer tool and it remained disabled until DCG received and implemented a software patch to remediate the issue. DCG also launched an immediate investigation working alongside cyber experts and appropriate law enforcement agencies. The investigation revealed evidence that an unauthorized third party potentially accessed certain files transferred through MOVEit Transfer that may have contained some of your personal information. First Fed Bank's systems were not accessed during this incident and there is no evidence at this time that your personal information has been used in an unauthorized way.

What Personal Information Was Involved? The personal information involved may have included your name, Social Security number or Tax identification number, date of birth, account/loan number, and account/loan details.

What We Are Doing. We have been working with DCG to investigate this incident and identify what information may have been involved. We are also exploring steps to help prevent a similar incident from occurring in the future, including reviewing our vendor relationships. Finally, although we are not aware of any instances of fraud or identity theft resulting from this incident, out of an abundance of caution, we are offering a complimentary two-year membership of Experian IdentityWorks Credit 3B. This product helps detect possible misuse of your personal information and provides you with identity protection services focused on immediate identification and resolution of identity theft. IdentityWorks Credit 3B is completely free to you and enrolling in this program will not hurt your credit score. The District of Columbia and Massachusetts law also allow consumers to place a security freeze on their credit reports. A security freeze can be placed without any charge. A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from a consumer's credit report without written authorization. However, please be aware that placing a security freeze on your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests you make for new loans, credit mortgages, employment, housing or other services.

To place a security freeze on your credit report, you must send a written request to each of the three major consumer reporting agencies by regular, certified or overnight mail at the addresses below or, if available, comply with the consumer reporting agencies' online security freeze request procedures:

The credit reporting agencies have three (3) business days after receiving your request to place a security freeze on your credit report. The credit bureaus must also send written confirmation to you within five (5) business days and provide you with a unique personal identification number (PIN) or password, or both that can be used by you to authorize the removal or lifting of the security freeze.

To lift the security freeze in order to allow a specific entity or individual access to your credit report, you must call or send a written request to the credit reporting agencies by mail or, if available, comply with the consumer reporting agencies' online procedures for lifting a security freeze, and include proper identification (name, address, and social security number) and the PIN number or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze as well as the identities of those entities or individuals you would like to receive your credit report or the specific period of time you want the credit report available. The credit reporting agencies have three (3) business days after receiving your request to lift the security freeze for those identified entities or for the specified period of time.

To remove the security freeze, you must send a written request to each of the three credit bureaus by mail or, if available, comply with the consumer reporting agencies' online procedures for removing a security freeze, and include proper identification (name, address, and social security number) and the PIN number or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze.
