Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>,

We are writing to inform you that we, Red Roof (“Red Roof” or “we”) experienced a data incident on September 23, 2023 (“Incident”) that potentially involved your personal information (“Information”). This letter provides you with information about this Incident, our response, and information on where to direct your questions. Additionally, we have provided steps you can take to protect your Information, including the ability to enroll in credit monitoring services that we are offering free of charge for twenty-four (24) months.

What Happened?

On September 23, 2023, Red Roof detected suspicious activity within our systems and immediately began an investigation. The activity was soon identified as bearing the hallmarks of a ransomware attack, including the encryption of a limited subset of Red Roof data. Upon discovery, we immediately took the affected systems offline and began working to remedy the situation, including resetting passwords and reporting the situation to federal law enforcement. As a result of our incident response measures, we successfully confined the unauthorized access to only a small number of systems compared to our overall infrastructure.

Red Roof’s investigation found that an unauthorized actor gained access to a limited number of Red Roof’s systems before deploying ransomware. The investigation was also able to confirm that a limited amount of data was copied from Red Roof’s network. Accordingly, Red Roof analyzed the relevant data to confirm the identities of individuals whose Information was potentially involved for the purpose of sending this notification. There is currently no indication that any Information has been misused for identity theft or fraud in connection with this Incident.

What Information Was Involved?

Red Roof’s investigation determined that the copied data included the following categories of your Information: name, <<Variable 1 :Data Element>>.

What We Are Doing.

Upon becoming aware of the unauthorized activity, we immediately implemented measures to further improve the security of Red Roof’s information technology systems and practices, including implementing software and hardware to prevent, detect, and respond to unauthorized activity, resetting and strengthening passwords, implementing new risk management protocols, and adopting new network access policies. We worked with leading cybersecurity experts to aid our investigation and response, and we reported this incident to relevant government agencies and law enforcement.

In addition, we are offering identity theft protection services through a data breach and recovery services expert, IDX, a ZeroFox Company. Fraud Alert. You may place a fraud alert in your file by calling one of the three nationwide credit reporting agencies above. A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures, including contacting you before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts. For that reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but also may delay you when you seek to obtain credit.

Security Freeze. Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681c-1, you may obtain a security freeze on your credit report, free of charge, to protect your privacy and ensure that credit is not granted in your name without your knowledge. You have a right to place a security freeze on your credit report, free of charge, or submit a declaration of removal pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting and Identity Security Act.

The security freeze will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing any information in your credit report without your express authorization or approval. The security freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. When you place a security freeze on your credit report, you will be provided with a personal identification number, password, or similar device to use if you choose to remove the freeze on your credit report or to temporarily authorize the release of your credit report to a specific party or parties or for a specific period of time after the freeze is in place.

To place a security freeze on your credit report, you may be able to use an online process, an automated telephone line, or a written request to any of the three credit reporting agencies listed above. The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze (note that if you are requesting a credit report for your spouse, this information must be provided for him/her as well): (1) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (2) Social Security number; (3) date of birth; (4) current address and any previous addresses for the past five years; and (5) any applicable incident report or complaint with a law enforcement agency or the Registry of Motor Vehicles. The request must also include a copy of a government-issued identification card and a copy of a recent utility bill or bank or insurance statement. It is essential that each copy be legible, and display your name, current mailing address, and the date of issue.
