

Commonwealth v. Maurice M. Smith

SJC-13796

Whether the motion judge erred in denying the Commonwealth's motion to revise and revoke the defendant's sentence to State prison for a term of one year to one year and a day for violating G. L. c. 269, § 10 (m), which motion asserted that the statute required a maximum term not lower than two and one-half years. (Note that this case will be argued with SJC-13792, Commonwealth vs. Stefanos Psikarakis).
