Framework for TIR Orgs

Feedback Process

- Framework Survey distributed broadly through OCA & CTTF member networks
 - 47 Responses, plus a handful of emails
- OCA and CTTF members also distributed copies to variety of subject matter experts with request for detailed review
 - Responses received from experts at UMass (Child Trauma Training Center), Judge Baker Children's Center, Refugee Trauma & Resilience Center, JRI, Boston Youth Sanctuary
- OCA presented and solicited feedback from several groups, including:
 - NCTSN Grantees Group
 - Mass School Administrator's Association
 - Trauma-Informed Hampden and Berkshire County groups
 - Plymouth County DECI Initiative

Positive Feedback

Survey Results

Overall very positive feedback:

- The Framework is clear and comprehensive: 100% said, after reading the Framework, that they had a “better understanding of what it means to be ‘trauma-informed and responsive’ as an organization.”
- The Framework is applicable for child-serving organizations across sectors: 100% of respondents felt that the Framework is generally applicable for organizations like theirs.
- There is a strong interest in making organizations TIR
 - 42% (n=18) said they were interested in making their organization TIR
 - 53% (n=23) said their organizations were already TIR
 - Only 2 respondents stated they were not interested in their organizations becoming TIR.

47 respondents representing state agencies (33%), community social services providers (33%), juvenile justice system (8%), and other child-serving organizations (e.g. education, Early Intervention, CAC).

Suggested Edits

1. Edits added to Framework (go to working document)
 1. Clarity (terminology, word choice, document purpose and audience)
 2. Additional examples
 3. Added emphasis
2. Feedback on terminology re: cultural competence and cultural inclusivity

Survey Results - Implementation

What would organizations need to implement the Framework and become TIR?

1. Organizational assessment that could identify areas for improvement (53%)
2. A “TIR” resource website (49%)
3. Support identifying/implementing services for staff to address/prevent STS (40%)

Organizations also need support with:

- Reviewing and modifying current policies and practices (23%)
- Identifying/implementing specific trauma screenings/assessments/interventions (28%)
- Developing/implementing ongoing evaluation of TIR policies and services (21%)
- Connecting with other TIR organizations in their community/field (19%)
- Incorporating staff and children/families in creating and reviewing organization’s TIR policies and services (19%)
- Transforming organization’s physical environment (16%)

Survey Results - Implementation
