

Commonwealth of Massachusetts Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs Environmental Justice at EEA

Presentation to DCR Stewardship Council Rishi Reddi, Director of Environmental Justice February 2020

What is Environmental Justice?

The assumption is that everyone benefits from the same supports. This is equal treatment.

Everyone gets the supports they need (this is the concept of "affirmative action"), thus producing equity.

All 3 can see the game without supports or accommodations because the cause(s) of the inequity was addressed. The systemic barrier has been removed.

EEA's 2017 Environmental Justice Policy states:

Environmental justice is based on the principle that all people have a right to be protected from environmental hazards and to live in and enjoy a clean and healthful environment regardless of race, color, national origin, income, or English language proficiency. Environmental justice is the equal protection and meaningful involvement of all people and communities with respect to the development, implementation, and enforcement of energy, climate change, and environmental laws, regulations, and policies and the equitable distribution of energy and environmental benefits and burdens.

EJ Policy & Massachusetts Parks

"Working with EJ populations, EEA will take direct action as part of the implementation of this policy to restore degraded natural resources, to increase access to open space and parks, to address environmental and health risks associated with existing and potential new sources of pollution, to appropriately address climate change, and to improve overall quality of life..."

3 Crucial Aspects to Environmental Justice

- Right to a Clean Air and Water
- > Provided in the Article 97 of Massachusetts Constitution
- Disproportionality
- > Equitable distribution of benefits and burdens of environmental protection
- Cumulative Impact
  - How to quantify and assess the entire public health impact of many environmental burdens in a particular geographic area, each of which many have been legally permitted.
  - Includes assessment of the lack of environmental benefits in the area

2 Important Tools to promote EJ in Massachusetts

2017 Environmental Justice Policy

Environmental Justice Viewer Map

Applies to all EEA Agencies and Offices

https://www.mass.gov/files/documents/2017/11/2 9/2017-environmental-justice-policy_0.pdf

The first MA EJ Policy came out in 2002. The Commonwealth has long recognized the importance of equity in implementing its regulatory, enforcement, permitting, and grant disbursement programs.

Depicts EJ Populations in Massachusetts.

http://maps.massgis.state.ma.us/map_ol/ej.php

EJ Viewer Map outlines each EJ population in the Commonwealth and specifies which demographic EJ criteria the population meets.

"Environmental Justice Population" definition

EEA's EJ Policy defines an EJ Population as a census block group that fits ONE OR MORE of the following criteria.

Substantial evidence shows a statewide coincidence of the following neighborhood demographic data, disproportionately high environmental burdens, and public health vulnerabilities.

- 1. Low Income: annual median household income at /below 65% statewide median income
- 2. People of Color (Minority): 25% or more of residents are People of Color
- 3. Limited English Proficiency (English Isolation): 25% or more of residents speak English "less than very well"

EJ Populations comprise 33% of MA residents on 7% of the land.

Policy requires the EEA Agencies to advance Environmental Justice through:

- "Senior-Level Commitment" from all EEA agency and offices
  - > EJ Points of Contact must be selected for each agency/office
  - > EJ Points of Contact names must be posted on
    - » EEA's webpage
    - » newsletters,
    - » funding requests for proposals
    - » other appropriate places.

" Secretariat EJ Strategy. EEA agencies shall develop their own strategies to proactively promote environmental justice in all neighborhoods in ways that are tailored to the agencies' mission."

EJ STRATEGIES REQUIRED UNDER EJ POLICY [para.13]

Secretariat EJ Strategy. EEA agencies shall develop their own strategies to proactively promote environmental justice in all neighborhoods in ways that are tailored to the agencies' mission.

In doing so, EEA agencies shall consider how to appropriately integrate environmental justice considerations into their departments through policies, programs, or other strategies. In addition to the particular services already specified below, EEA agencies shall identify and promote agency-sponsored projects, funding decisions, rulemakings or other actions intended to further environmental justice throughout the Commonwealth in order to show how the fair distribution of benefits has been measured.

These strategies will be consolidated into one Secretariat EJ Strategy and will be finalized by a date established by the Secretary. Furthermore, EEA shall guide all Secretariats in the development of their individual EJ Strategy.

EJ Task Force Roadmap & Legal Authority

What will we implement through an Environmental Justice

Agency strategies will advance EJ through 3 main pathways

Improving Public Participation in Government Decision-Making

- Communicating information to communities by government
- Receiving input from the public to government
- Language access

Policy Review and Revision

• How can we better address disproportionality and cumulative effects

Metrics and Tracking

How shall we measure our progress

Challenges to Public Participation in EEA Programs

Top 5 primary languages for speakers who ALSO report knowing English "less than very well":

Data from American Community Survey and 2010 U.S. Census

LANGUAGE	SPEAKERS
Spanish	231,000
Portuguese	80,000
Chinese (all forms)	65,000
Haitian Creole	35,000
Vietnamese	25,000
TOTAL	436,000 = 6.3% of MA population

Long-term Environmental Effects of Historic "Redlining"

The formation of today's EJ neighborhoods, and the reality of their existence, are founded in the Home Owners' Loan Corporation maps of the 1930s. These maps, which designated undesirable areas in "red," deeply influenced where banks would financially support the formation of "good" residential neighborhoods. They explicitly used race as a factor in their assessments.

You can explore the website of these maps here:

Examples of Forward-looking, Inclusive EJ-Oriented Actions

- 2050 Decarbonization Roadmap Public Meetings for Global Warming Solutions Act
  - Translation of documents into major non-English languages spoken in MA
- Municipal Vulnerability Preparedness Grants Climate Change Resilience Criteria
  - Grant criteria incentivizes projects that assist the most vulnerable EJ neighborhoods, Encourages municipal leaders to engage proactively with EJ neighborhoods in town
  - Keep track by money and location of EJ population assisted
- Transportation Climate Initiative (TCI) aka Transportation Emissions Reduction Initiative (TERI)
  - 35% of the funds available through the program is set aside for equity populations that are underserved and over-burdened; .
- Work Force Development
  - Reaching out to EJ Populations to develop the workforce we will need to make the transition to green economy

Title VI of Civil Rights Act of 1964

- Applies to State programs and activities that receive federal funds
- Prohibits intentional discrimination, retaliation and intimidation, or disparate impact of neutral laws, on the following protected "classes" or groups:
