If you're on the career hunt, have you considered getting into the tech industry? Right now there is a high demand for jobs in IT such as software developers, cybersecurity analysts and more in Massachusetts and the job openings pay well.

Apprenti is a registered apprenticeship program that gives you a path and plan to a career in the tech industry. You must have at least a HS diploma or a GED, be at least 18 years or older and be registered to work in the US to apply.

It's a simple process:

Step 1: All you have to do to get started is take an online assessment. Highly ranked candidates will be invited to interview with Apprenti. The best candidates advance to company interviews, and if you're a fit, you'll be offered an apprenticeship role.

Step 2: Once accepted, you'll be placed into 3-5 months of full-time technical training in your occupational area.

Step 3: Once you complete training, you'll start your paid on-the-job portion of apprenticeship with one of Apprenti's many hiring partners such as PTC, Wayfair, Cengage, Harvard University IT, Carbon Black, RSM, Eversource, and Liberty Mutual.

After graduating from your apprenticeship, you'll have the skills and experience to qualify to be retained by your hiring company or within the industry.
