

Lawrence High School

9th Grade English Language Arts

Organization:

The following documents represent the range and organization of the Massachusetts English Language Arts Curriculum Frameworks that students must master upon completion of their first year of English, along with the skills, learning outcomes, assessments, text-sets and materials connected with said Standards. The curriculum documents are organized into six units of study, with dates provided to guide the pacing of the unit. While the document outlines the specific theme of "identity" as well as some required extended texts, the intention of the document is not to dictate all that teachers teach, or how teachers teach. It is the expectation that teachers will adhere to the minimum requirements for the sake of consistency and cohesion in the delivery of the MA ELA Standards, but that they will also feel free to use the documents as the starting point for their own unit and lesson development. Teachers are further encouraged to tailor the units and themes to the specific needs of their students and theme of their school.

Course Levels:

Each of the English courses is offered at the honors and the college prep levels. While the standards and learning outcomes will remain the same regardless of course level, the amount of teacher support and student modification will vary between the honors and college prep level. These modifications include, but are not limited to, a higher volume of reading assignments, as well as more challenging written assignments to be completed with a higher degree of student independence. These documents do not currently include the modifications that are necessary to meet the specific needs of English Language Learners and Special Education students. It is the expectation that teachers specializing in those areas will make the necessary accommodations that our English language learners and special education students require.

Language Progressive Skills

At the beginning of each grade level all students will be administered a writing pre-assessment, which will assess for the language standards that are outlined by the MA ELA Frameworks. Teachers should use the data from this assessment to determine areas of need in relation to language skills, and plan instruction in those areas. Additionally, teachers will revisit language skill building as they assess students throughout the year via writing assignments and oral language proficiency.

Vocabulary Standards and Instructional Strategies

The Massachusetts Curriculum Framework for English Language Arts and Literacy outlines specific vocabulary proficiencies that must be attained by the end of each grade level. These vocabulary standards are represented in the Strands for both Reading Literature and Informational Text. In addition, the Language Standards 3-6 also outline vocabulary-specific skills that must be practiced and mastered to proficiency by the conclusion of grades 11-12. It is the expectation that students at Lawrence High School receive regular and consistent instruction around the following vocabulary skills:

- Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in the text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone, including words with multiple meanings or language that is particularly fresh, engaging, or beautiful.
- Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in the text, including figurative, connotative, and technical meanings; analyze how an author uses and refines the meaning of a key term or terms over the course of a text.
- Determine the meaning of unknown and multiple-meaning words and phrases using a range of strategies, including:
 - Use context as a clue to the meaning of words and phrases.
 - Identify and correctly use patterns of word changes that indicate different meanings or parts of speech.
 - Consult general and specialized reference materials, both print and digital, to find the pronunciation of a word or determine or clarify its precise meaning, its part of speech, its etymology, or its standard usage.
 - Verify the preliminary determination of the meaning of a word or phrase.
- Demonstrate understanding of figurative language, word relationships, and nuances in word meanings by interpreting figures of speech in context and analyze their role in the text, and analyzing nuances in the meaning of words with similar denotations.
- Acquire and use accurately general and domain-specific words and phrases, sufficient for reading, writing, speaking, and listening at the college and career readiness level; demonstrate independence in gathering vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.

Evidence of students' work on the above should be apparent in students' notebooks. Specific vocabulary strategies have been included in the "teacher resource" section of this document as a suggested guide for vocabulary instruction.

- Why did s/he do that? What are his/her intentions or beliefs?
- What does he/she mean by this?
- What does this line, passage, event, characterization, or setting imply, indicate, or suggest? What might it be a symbol of, or a metaphor for?

Vocabulary Strategies

Steps in the Vocabulary Self-Selection Strategy

(Adapted from Bolachowics & Fischer, 2002)

1. Have students read a text selection and identify two words that they find interesting or challenging.
2. Have each student write these two words on a card so that they can be shared with the class.
3. Ask the class to vote on five to eight words to be learned for the week.
4. Engage students in a discussion of the words to clarify, elaborate, and extend word meanings.
5. Have students record the word on the My Words Sheet and the Class Words sheet and generate a chart, diagram, picture, and definition to help them remember the words' meanings.
6. As an extension to this activity, ask students to create writing assignments, activities, games, and practice tests based on the selected words.

Personal Vocabulary Journals

Source: Based on Wood, K.D. (1994). Practical strategies for Columbus, OH: National Middle School Association improving instruction.

Content Objective: Students will understand and acquire new vocabulary and use it correctly in reading and writing.

Language Objective: Identify and use correctly new words acquired through study of their different relationships to other words.

Rationale/Description: Most vocabulary words learned by students are determined by the teacher, usually through commercially prepared materials and textbooks. Consequently, students do not have the opportunity to learn vocabulary words of their own choosing, based on their individual interests. The Personal Vocabulary Journal can be used by teachers of all grade levels and subject areas to help focus students’ attention on new words of interest throughout their daily life at home or at school.

Intended for: Students of all grade levels, ability levels, and subject areas.

Procedure:

Step One: Ask students if they have ever heard or read a word in our out of class and wondered what it meant. Also, ask if they would like to have the opportunity to choose their own words to study instead of having the teacher decide which are most important.

Step Two: Display a blank vocabulary form on a document reader or on a handout. Tell the students that they will use this form to record one or two (or more) vocabulary terms that interest them or that relate to the particular unit of study.

Step Three: Demonstrate a sample entry by thinking aloud the process that students will undergo to select and record their entries. Enlist the participation of the class whenever possible.

Step Four: Make copies of the Personal Vocabulary Journal Collection handout and distribute it to the class. Explain that they may be asked to keep a vocabulary journal for other subjects as well. Also explain that they may be asked to choose any word encountered that interests them, not necessarily one that is related to a topic studied in class.

Step Five (discussion option): Students can be assigned to small groups of five to eight students to share words from their vocabulary journals. When appropriate, they may be asked to act out their words or make drawings to depict their meanings (these drawings can be displayed on your word wall).

Step Six (Additional options): Students may be asked to select two or three vocabulary words from their Personal Vocabulary Journals for the weekly or unit vocabulary tests. These terms can be submitted to the teacher for assessment purposes. Students can also choose two or three words to from their journal to add to their word wall.

"Identity"

ELL Tip: The Personal Vocabulary Journal can be adapted for use with English language learners and second language learners. Have students write vocabulary words in both languages. They can include definitions and examples in both languages.

My new word is squall

It is related to our science unit on weather

I found it on the weather station on TV.

The specific context is New Yorkers were surprised by a thick squall early this morning. No precipitation is expected tomorrow, however.

I think it means rain storm

The appropriate dictionary definition is a sudden gust of wind; a black squall has dark clouds; a thick squall has hail or sleet

It reminds me of the word squall used in our Language Arts story which meant "to scream."

Formative Assessment Examples

| Strategy | Description |
|---------------------------------------|---|
| Index Card Summaries/Questions | Distribute index cards and ask students to write on both sides, with these instructions: (Side 1) Based on our study of (unit topic), list a big idea that you understand and word it as a summary statement. (Side 2) Identify something about (unit topic) that you do not yet fully understand and word it as a statement or question. |
| Hand Signals | Ask students to display a designated hand signal to indicate their understanding of a specific concept, principle, or process: “I understand:” Thumbs Up, “I don’t understand:” Thumbs Down, “I’m not completely sure:” Thumbs in the Middle |
| One Minute Essay | A one minute essay question is a focused question with a specific goal that can be answered within a minute or two. |
| Analogy prompt | Present students with an analogy prompt related to the concept, principle, or process that they are learning: (Blank) is like (Blank) because..... |
| Web or Concept Map | Any of several forms of graphical organizers which allow students to perceive relationships between concepts through diagramming key words representing those concepts. |
| 3,2,1 | 3 things you learned; 2 things you already knew, 1 thing you still don’t fully understand |
| Think, Write, Pair, Share | Students respond to a question by thinking about it, writing about it, and then sharing their ideas with a nearby partner |
| Misconception Check | Present students with common or predictable misconceptions about a designated concept, principle, r process. Ask them where they agree or disagree and explain why. The misconception check can also be presented in the form of a multiple choice or true-false quiz. |
| 3 Minute Pause | The Three-Minute Pause provides a chance for students to stop, reflect on the concepts and ideas that have just been introduced, make connections to prior knowledge or experience, and seek clarification. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • I changed my attitude about... • I became more aware of... • I was surprised about... • I felt... • I related to... • I empathized with... |
| Observation | Walk around the classroom and observe students as they work to check for learning. Strategies may include anecdotal records, conferences, or checklists. |
| Idea Spinner | The teacher creates a spinner marked into 4 quadrants and labeled “Predict, Explain, Summarize, Evaluate.” After new material is presented, the teacher spins the spinner and asks students to answer a question based on the location of the spinner. For example, if the spinner lands on the |
| Inside-Outside Circle | Inside and outside circles of students face each other. Within each pair of facing students, students quiz each other with questions they have written. Outside circle moves to creates new pairs. Repeat. |
| S-O-S Summary | The teacher presents a statement (S), asks the student’s opinion (O) (whether the student agrees or disagrees with the statement), and asks the student to support (S) his or her opinion with evidence. |
| Fact Storming | See attached “Fact Storming” sheet for full description and directions |
| Peer Assessment | Classmate evaluates peer work as compared to a set of criteria: rubric, checklist, etc. (See attached “Peer Assessment” guides for examples). |
| KWL | KWL is a type of graphical organizer that students fill out before, during and after learning a new topic, concept or process, in which they fill in what they “Know,” what they “What to Know,” and what they “Learned.” |
| Graffiti Walls | The teacher places a large sheet of paper on a smooth surface, and invites the students to write or draw what they know about the topic. Students “sign: |

| Traffic Light | Students use a green, yellow, and red marker to indicate the level of help they need with their work, by marking the appropriate color next to different sections of a piece of written work |
| Directed Paraphrasing | Ask students to write a layman’s translation of something they have just learned, geared to a specified individual or audience to assess their ability to comprehend and transfer concepts. Categorize student responses according to characteristics you think are important. |
| Application Cards | After teaching about an important theory, concept, or procedure, ask students to write down at least one real-world application for what they have just learned to determine how they can transfer their learning. Quickly read and categorize them according to their quality. Pick out a broad range of examples, and present them to the class. |
| Self-Assessment Strategy #1 | Have students self-assessed using a few guiding sentence fragments, such as: I am pleased with my work so far, because... Two improvements I’ve made are... Next time I revise my work, I need to focus on... I would grade myself a _____ because I... In order to improve, I need to... |
| Ungraded Descriptive Feedback | Feedback that includes suggestions for improving the quality of the work; (Not a grade or %) |
| Self-Assessment Strategy #2 or Self Reflection | Post self-evaluation questions on the wall in the classroom. Examples of such questions would be as follows: What were you most pleased about? What do you need more help with? What did you find difficult? What did you already know about it? What did you find easy? What helped you move on to learn something new? |
| Four Corners (Frayer Model) | Four Corners is useful as a strategy at many grade levels and in many subject areas. It makes use of a familiar graphic organizer. Four boxes contain the words definition, information, example and non-example. The topic or concept is named in the middle of the graphic organizer. |
| Chain notes | Students pass around an envelope on which the teacher has written one question about the class. When the envelope reaches a student he/she spends a moment to respond to the question and then places the response in the envelope. Look through the responses and determine the best criteria for categorizing the data with the goal of detecting response patterns. Discuss the patterns with students. |

 - Make connections between previous lesson and today's lesson
 - Establish the purpose of the lesson
- Guided Practice
 - Building background for students
 - Modeling
 - Building Vocabulary
 - Pre-assessing where the students are at in terms of their knowledge and skills.
- Independent/Collaborative Work
 - What are students producing independently or collaboratively to demonstrate that they have mastered the objective?
 - Is the activity or assignment designed so that students can make connections?
 - How are students grouped?
 - How is the lesson differentiated?
 - Is the activity hands-on? Engaging? Applicable beyond the classroom?
 - Is there an opportunity for students to engage in some higher order discussion with each other?
- Closure
 - What will the students (and you) do to summarize as assess what has been learned?
 - How will you address gaps in understanding you've identified during the lesson?
