A supplier of aircraft (jet) fuel is any person who primarily sells or delivers aircraft (jet) fuel to a user–seller and customarily dispenses aircraft (jet) fuel from bulk storage facilities located and maintained outside airport property. A supplier may also include any person who imports aircraft (jet) fuel into the Commonwealth, except aircraft (jet) fuel contained in the usual tank or receptacle connected with the engine of an aircraft in the operation of which the aircraft fuel is to be consumed, or any person who otherwise would be a user–seller and who has been granted permission by the Commissioner of Revenue to qualify and be licensed as a supplier.

A user–seller of aircraft (jet) fuel is any person, not licensed as a supplier of aircraft (jet) fuel, who dispenses aircraft (jet) fuel, customarily from receptacles (fuel farms) within the airport property, into the fuel tanks of, or attached to, aircraft or including any such person who so dispenses aircraft (jet) fuel for consumption in such aircraft, owned, leased or operated by him.
