Bottom Line Reasons to Hire the Formerly Incarcerated	Getting a job is one of the hardest challenges a formerly incarcerated citizen faces. The author of this course Bob Pelshaw refused to hire people with a criminal history, until he served time in Federal prison. While doing his time, he wondered "What would someone have needed to do to convince me to hire them?" That was the birth of the bottom-line reasons. This course teaches the seven major bottom-line reasons for hiring the formerly incarcerated so that job applicants can use these reasons as ammunition to help obtain jobs. Forgiveness (Spanish Version available)	Never does the Bible talk about the idea of “forgiving yourself.” We are told to forgive others when they trespass against us and seek forgiveness. When we ask for God’s forgiveness based upon Christ having already paid for our sins and our having trusted in Him as Savior and Lord, He forgives us. It is as simple as that (1 John 1:9). However, even though we are released from the bondage to sin (as spoken of in Romans chapters 6-8), we can still choose to wallow in it and act as though we are not freed from it. Likewise, with guilty feelings we can accept the fact that we are forgiven in Christ, or we can believe the devil’s lie that we are still guilty and should therefore feel guilty. Gospel of St. Mark (Multiple courses)	This online independent study course will be an excursion into the least known, least popular, yet, most underrated of the four Gospels--inspired by God and written by the man who was Peter's secretary. Mark affords us an indispensable look into Jesus Christ and the true meaning of Christian discipleship. The content will explore many puzzles of this Gospel, including the reasons why Mark has so often been neglected in the history of the Church, and why Mark, despite his relative neglect in the past, is essential in his witness to the truth of Jesus Christ and the historical memory of the Lord's life and ministry. Furthermore, participants who complete the seminar should be able to give reasons why Mark is an outstanding catechetical tool for explaining the mystery of Christian discipleship.	Included in EDOVO	Incarcerated Persons	Individuals are not compensated to participate in programs unless eligible for earned good time.
Gospel of St. Matthew (Multiple courses)	This Distance Learning with Independent study course will study the Gospel of St. Matthew using both ancient and modern insights regarding its structure and theology. Those who complete this course should be able to compare this Gospel with the other synoptic Gospels; explain how the structure reveals that Jesus is the new David and the New Moses; describe Jesus' attitude toward Pharisaic legalism; appreciate Jesus' use of parables, particularly the parable of the sower; define the way Jesus established the Church, giving special responsibilities to Peter; and address the realities of the Kingdom of God and the presence of both saints and sinners in the Church. Loneliness (Spanish Version available)	Being alone and being lonely are two different things. One can be alone without being lonely, and one can be lonely in a crowded room. Loneliness is, therefore, a state of mind, an emotion brought on by feelings of separation from other human beings. The sense of isolation is very deeply felt by those who are lonely. The Hebrew word translated “desolate” or “lonely” in the Old Testament means “one alone, only; one who is solitary, forsaken, wretched.” There is no deeper sadness that ever comes over the mind than the idea that we are alone in the world, that we do not have a friend, that no one cares for us, that no one is concerned about anything that might happen to us, that no one would care if we were to die or shed a tear over our grave	Included in EDOVO	Incarcerated Persons	Individuals are not compensated to participate in programs unless eligible for earned good time.

Lust (Spanish Version available)	Most words in the Bible that are translated “lust” mean “a passionate desire.” Strong desire can be either good or bad, depending upon the object of that desire and the motive behind it. God created the human heart with the capacity for passionate desire so that we would long after Him and His righteousness (Psalm 42:1–2; 73:25). However, the concept of “lust” is now usually associated with a passionate desire for something God has forbidden, and the word is seen as synonymous with sexual or materialistic desire. Taming the Tongue	God desires for us to use our tongues to bring Him glory, to edify others and proclaim the gospel to everyone. The tongue can only be tamed by the power of God. We cannot purposefully choose to honor God with our words by using enough willpower. Taming the tongue only comes from the Lord. Through the enabling of the Holy Spirit, we learn to control our tongue by choosing not to talk with "unwholesome" words. Crass language, ugly humor and cuss words are not for the believer to use. It is through the Holy Spirit that we can bridle our tongue and guard the words we use. We also grow in sanctification this way by choosing to speak words that edify instead of words that reflect anger and sin. Understanding Addiction (Available in Spanish)	Many people don't understand why or how other people become addicted to drugs. They may mistakenly think that those who use drugs lack moral principles or willpower and that they could stop their drug use simply by choosing to. In reality, drug addiction is a complex disease, and quitting usually takes more than good intentions or a strong will. Drugs change the brain in ways that make quitting hard, even for those who want to. Fortunately, researchers know more than ever about how drugs affect the brain and have found treatments that can help people recover from drug addiction and lead productive lives. Acceptance and Commitment Therapy	Acceptance and Commitment Training (ACT) is an evidence-based treatment developed by Steven Hayes. ACT is a contextually focused form of cognitive behavioral therapy that uses mindfulness and behavioral activation to increase a participant's psychological flexibility -- the ability to engage in values-based, positive behaviors while experiencing difficult thoughts, emotions, or sensations. ACT has been shown to increase effective action; reduce unhelpful thoughts, feelings, and behaviors; and alleviate distress for individuals with a broad range of problems. A form of ACT that we facilitate is ACTV - a curriculum that has incorporated the essential components of Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT) to work with individuals who have a history of domestic violence and assault and battery offenses. ACTV seeks to expand participants' knowledge of ACT and to assist them in applying it to their daily lives. The goal is to assist participants in defining their true values in life and working with them as they move toward a life consistent with their values, particularly that of remaining nonviolent and non-abusive.	$2,460.64	Incarcerated persons	Individuals are not compensated to participate in programs unless eligible for earned good time.
