Hello - below are your he items I think should be included in the new building code

The Stretch code should require All-Electric construction for residential new construction over 3,000 square feet. The current straw proposal requires All-Electric construction for buildings over 4,000 square feet.

All new construction using fossil fuel heating systems should require at least 50% of the building's energy load be produced by Solar PV generation onsite.

Thank you
