

We're here to help.

If you have been raped or sexually assaulted, a lawyer may be able to help with the issues you face as a result of the assault. When the perpetrator is someone you know (for example, a co-worker, classmate, neighbor, or friend), these issues may become even more complex and legal representation may help you stabilize your life.

We represent all rape and sexual assault survivors, including:

- Adults and children
- People of all sexual orientations and gender identities
- Immigrants, refugees, and undocumented persons regardless of legal status

VICTIM RIGHTS LAW CENTER

If, as a result of a sexual assault, you are concerned about any of the issues listed below, we may be able to help.

SAFETY, HOUSING, AND ACADEMICS

- Is the perpetrator part of your college community (e.g., a student or employee)?
- Do you see the perpetrator around?
- Has the perpetrator threatened you?
- Has the perpetrator been contacting you on their own and/or through others?
- Do you feel unsafe at college?
- Do you want information about potential options, such as a No Contact Order/Stay Away Order through your college and/or a Protection Order through the court?

- Are you having trouble attending classes, participating in extracurricular activities and/or athletics, completing work, taking exams, and/or working?
- Is there anything you can think of that would help you feel safer?

REPORTING TO YOUR COLLEGE AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

- Do you know you have the option to report?
- Do you have questions about the reporting process?
- Are you concerned about your privacy?
- Are you concerned about potential retaliation from the perpetrator and/or others?
- Do you have concerns/questions about how reports made to law enforcement and to your college may impact each other?
- Are you looking to appeal a decision your college made following their process?
- Do you have concerns about how your college has responded to your report?

If you answered YES to any of these questions, LET US HELP.

We provide FREE legal assistance.
