As a 70 year old Andover resident, I support Mass General Brigham's project to provide the same healthcare I receive today in Boston much closer to my home—in Woburn. We need more access to care in our community – especially behavioral health, which this site will provide.

The project will also provide much needed jobs, including 300 union construction jobs and 200 permanent jobs, that will help our local economy emerge from the pandemic.

I support the Mass General Brigham project and ask the Department of Public Health to approve this application.

As a local resident and Mass General Brigham employee, I believe our relationship with our patients is at the heart of the healthcare experience – for patients, their communities, care team members, and employees.

Understanding our patients' personal stories and building a lifelong relationship is crucial to making healthcare less complicated, less fragmented, and less costly.

Our response to COVID-19 is an example of how a coordinated approach can result in better access. I support this project, and I am looking forward to working with Woburn and the surrounding communities to ensure that Mass General Brigham that uses our people, research, and technology to meet the needs of our patients.

As a local resident and Mass General Brigham employee, I believe our relationship with our patients is at the heart of the healthcare experience – for patients, their communities, care team members, and employees.

Understanding our patients' personal stories and building a lifelong relationship is crucial to making healthcare less complicated, less fragmented, and less costly.

Our response to COVID-19 is an example of how a coordinated approach can result in better access. I support this project, and I am looking forward to working with Woburn and the surrounding communities to ensure that Mass General Brigham that uses our people, research, and technology to meet the needs of our patients.

As a local resident, I support Mass General Brigham's project to provide the same healthcare I receive today in Boston closer to my home. We need more access to care in our community – especially behavioral health, which this site will provide.

The project will also provide much needed jobs, including 300 union construction jobs and 200 permanent jobs, that will help our local economy emerge from the pandemic.

I support the Mass General Brigham project and ask the Department of Public Health to approve this application.

I am an Assistant Professor of Medicine at the Mass General Brigham (MGB) and recently moved family to Woburn. As a local resident and MGB employee, I believe our relationship with our patients and their communities is important to understand our patients' personal stories and provide cost-effective care.

In the midst of this COVID19 pandemic, our response is an example of how a well coordinated healthcare system can result in better access and care of our patients.

I support this initiative and I am looking forward to working with the city of Woburn and the surrounding communities to ensure that MGB uses our expertise, research and technologies to provide and meet the needs of our patients.

As a local resident in Wakefield and Mass General Brigham employee, I hope to see the health care center in Woburn come to fruition. The location would be convenient for patients living north of Boston -- I'd look forward to taking my family there for care.

Opening a site in Woburn would bring care to where patients and families need it and make for a more convenient experience, particularly for those who may find it difficult to go into the city for care. Currently, my primary care physician is in downtown Boston. I'd love to find a physician closer to home and stay in the area for primary care. This location would offer that kind of care for me and my family and for many other families in the area.

The proposed plan may also help drive down costs and stimulate our local economy, which are two critical benefits.

I support this project, and I am looking forward to all that the center will be able to provide to our local community.

I am a surgeon at Winchester Hospital I also operate at Melrose Wakefield Hospital. I have noted that the operating rooms are not running at full capacity in the ambulatory centers are also not running at full capacity. The current local hospital systems have more than enough capacity to serve the local communities with high cost low quality care. Opening a new facility at this point would only threaten the financial existence of the current long established community hospitals.

As a local resident and an employee of Mass Eye and Ear, I am well aware of the importance of having high quality health care that is accessible to all. There is currently not a strong Mass General Brigham presence in my area. I hope that this can be rectified with a facility in Woburn. I prefer to receive my healthcare close to home, and I know so many patients who feel the same way. I also think there are career opportunities for medical professionals and job opportunities in supporting roles that a Woburn location will bring to the area, and this is sorely needed now.
