Lifeline Program - Subsidized Phone and Internet Service

Lifeline is a federal program that provides free or low-cost phone or internet service to low-income households through a monthly service discount of up to $9.25. Lifeline subscribers have the choice of applying their benefit discount to either (1) home phone service; (2) home internet service, where available, or (3) a wireless phone plan with data. The Lifeline Program subsidy does not cover the cost of a wireless device, but some Lifeline Providers may choose to offer an initial wireless device upon completing enrollment.

Only one Lifeline program discount is available per household, which is defined as any individual or group of individuals who live together at the same address and share income and expenses. Therefore, if there are multiple people living at the same address, but they do not share income, each individual will be eligible for Lifeline service.

In response to COVID-19, the FCC has extended benefit recertification deadlines until August 31, 2020 to ease the burden on current Lifeline subscribers who need to submit documentation to show they remain eligible to receive Lifeline service. The FCC has also waived the 30 day usage rule until August 31, 2020, and directed the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) to pause any involuntary de-enrollment of existing subscribers.

Eligibility: There are two ways to qualify for the Lifeline program: income-based eligibility (household income is at or below 135% of the federal poverty guidelines) or program-based eligibility (Medicaid, Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, Supplemental Security Income, Federal Public Housing Assistance, Certain Federally-Recognized/State Tribal Assistance Programs, and Veteran's Pension or Survivor's Pension benefit). A full list of eligibility criteria, including the federal poverty guidelines, is available here: <https://www.lifelinesupport.org/do-i-qualify/>.

Enrolling in Lifeline: As of January 22, 2020, prior to enrolling with a Lifeline service provider, Massachusetts Lifeline applicants need to first verify their eligibility for the Lifeline Program using the National Verifier, a centralized system that is managed directly by USAC, the administrator of the Lifeline Program under the direction of the FCC. In order to verify eligibility, consumers will need to complete the standard Lifeline Program application as well as submit a copy of their proof of eligibility documentation. A full list of acceptable proof of eligibility documentation can be found here: <https://www.lifelinesupport.org/do-i-qualify/how-to-prove-participation/>. Consumers can apply online by visiting www.CheckLifeline.org/lifeline/.

Note: Until August 31, 2020, the FCC will waive its requirement that consumers seeking to demonstrate income-based qualification for the Lifeline program must provide at least three consecutive months of documentation to confirm their income. Instead, consumers can now present an official document that confirms their current income information such as a notice of unemployment benefit payments or notice of a successfully submitted application for unemployment benefits
