STORY OF A SCHOOL BUILDING “RENOVATION”

The Bartlett High School-Webster, MA

The Webster school district's architect will discuss the renovation project plans for the sprawling late-1970's vintage Bartlett High School.

Learn what building features helped determine the choice of renovation over new construction.

Learn how the architect will reimagine the school's dark spaces like internal classrooms, devoid of natural light and proper ventilation, into vibrant learning spaces.

For the fiscally-minded, learn how a major renovation can cost less than a new building. For the environmentally conscious, learn how using fewer new materials reduces waste and the demand for new resources.

Does your school district or municipality want to find new life for an older school building?
