

FARMERS MARKETS

FIND THE BOUNTY OF MASSACHUSETTS AGRICULTURE AT YOUR LOCAL FARMERS MARKET!

Whether you live in the city or suburbs, a Massachusetts farmers market is not too far from you! From spring until late fall, and even throughout the winter, you can find local growers set up with their canopies and colorful displays of just-harvested fruits and vegetables in town squares, parks and other public spaces.

At many farmers markets you will also find an array of farm products and locally made foods, including baked goods, jams and jellies, maple products, honey, farmstead cheeses, flowers, eggs, meat, poultry, and more! The festive atmosphere and fresh foods will certainly please all your senses.

During the winter months, many winter and holiday farmers markets set up indoors.

From apples to zucchini,
MassGrown has you covered!
