Angela Brathwaite	I have a question about the overtime multiplier rates, what if we have more than 5?	If you have more than 5, you're going to have to submit another workbook with the rest of the multipliers.
Julie Wayman	Where can we find this workbook?	You can find the MEMA workbook on the MEMA website. Once on the page, scroll down to MEMA Forms for PA Projects: https://www.mass.gov/info-details/fema-public-assistance-local-state-tribal-and-non-profit#mema-forms-for-public-assistance-projects
Lynn Coish	Please discuss copy/paste in this tab.	You can use copy and paste in the toolbar or by right clicking. You are also able to use ctrl C, to copy. However, you are not able to use ctrl V when you are going to paste because that will take all of the formatting from the page you copied from and it does cause issues with the State workbook. You must use the paste tab in the tool bar, or if you right click.
