

Nationally Certified Radon Measurement Professionals

(Updated 05/04/2026)

Below is a comprehensive list of certified radon measurement professionals in Massachusetts certified by either the National Radon Proficiency Program or the National Radon Safety Board (updated monthly).

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts doesn't certify radon professionals. If you hire one for a radon test, we recommend choosing a pro certified by one of the two certifying agencies. A professional only needs certification from one of the two agencies. The certification is held by the professional, not the business.

Please note that not all professionals listed below provide residential radon measurement services.
