Providing a Safe and Healthy Workplace Pays Great Dividends!

The costs associated with workplace accidents and work-related illnesses include:

- Increased workers' compensation rates
- Increased insurance premiums
- OSHA citations
- Repair or replacement of damaged equipment
- Production downtime or disruption due to worker absenteeism
- Administrative time filing claims and reports
- Poor employee morale
- Bad publicity for your business

Establishing an effective safety and health program is the solution, and a free consultation visit will help you achieve this goal!

On-Site Consultation Program

The Massachusetts On-Site Consultation Program offers free consultation services to help private sector employers identify and control potential safety and health hazards at their worksites, improve their safety and health programs and assist with training employees. The On-Site Consultation Program primarily services establishments with fewer than 250 employees in high hazard industries, such as manufacturing, healthcare and construction. Larger establishments are welcome to request a consultation, however, priority will be given to the smaller establishments.

Consultations Are Confidential

The On-Site Consultation Program, which is jointly funded by the Massachusetts Department of Labor Standards and the U.S. Department of Labor, Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), is a confidential service in which your company's name, and any other information you provide, including any unsafe or unhealthy working conditions found, will not be reported routinely to OSHA.

The consultation service is completely separate from the federal OSHA inspection effort. The On-Site Consultation Program consists of highly-trained safety and health (industrial hygiene) professionals with many years of experience. Consultants issue no citations or penalties for non-compliance. Your only obligation will be to agree to correct all serious safety and health hazards in a timely manner. OSHA will be notified only if identified serious hazards or imminent dangers are not corrected.

How Consultation Can Help

Our safety and health consultant staff will:

- Help you recognize hazards in your workplace.
- Suggest control measures and options for solving a safety or health problem.
- Provide technical support and guidance.
- Monitor worker exposures to air contaminants and other potential health hazards.
- Inform you and your employees about relevant OSHA regulations.
- Provide templates and review OSHA-required written programs.
- Provide templates and review OSHA-required written programs.

Our safety and health consultant staff will not:

- Issue citations or propose penalties for violations of OSHA standards.
- Report possible violations to OSHA enforcement staff except for unabated serious hazards.
- Guarantee that your workplace will “pass” an OSHA inspection.

On-Site Consultation Options

Occupational safety and health consultations are free to any private-sector business and public-sector establishments in Massachusetts. Employers can request a comprehensive (wall-to-wall) safety and health on-site consultation, or may limit the site visit to specific operations. Company Employer and employee representatives are encouraged to accompany the consultant during the on-site walk-through of your facility or construction site. Although the principal assistance the Consultation Program provides is on-site consultation, other assistance is also available. Contact our office, and we will be glad to assist you in any safety or health-related matter.

The On-Site Consultation Process:

1. Requesting Assistance

Since this service is voluntary you must request a consultation visit. Your request sets the consultation process in motion.

2. The On-Site Consultation

Once the request has been made, we will contact you to schedule a visit to your workplace. One of our consultant staff will review the entire consultation process during the opening conference. During the walk-through of the work areas you specify, the consultant will assess conditions at your workplace, point out potential safety and health hazards, discuss applicable OSHA standards or interpretations and recommend possible control measures.

The on-site walk-through includes a review of OSHA-required written programs, such as hazard communication and lock out/tag out programs, and an assessment of your health and safety programs. At the closing conference, the consultant explains preliminary findings, reviews possible solutions, and schedules abatement periods to eliminate or control identified hazards.

3. The Written Report

Following the visit, the consultant will send you a detailed written report explaining all findings, possible control measures, and confirming abatement periods discussed in the closing conference. At your request, the consultant may provide follow-up services such as noise monitoring or air sampling at your establishment.

4. Correcting the Hazards

Employers are obligated to correct all serious and imminent safety and health hazards in an agreed upon timeline.

5. Abatement Verification

We ask that employers inform us of actions taken to correct serious and imminent danger hazards and agree to post the "List of Hazards" and correction due dates. Depending on the corrective action necessary, the consultant may return for a follow-up visit.
