Important Announcements: Director of Massachusetts Bureau of Substance Addiction Services (BSAS)'s Office of Strategy and Innovation Nicole Schmitt shared an update on the Regional Listening Session that was held with the Franklin Regional Council of Governments on October 6, 2025. BSAS Director of Opioid Abatement Julia Newhall announced that municipal training and technical assistance was relaunched under RIZE and encouraged Advisory Council members to utilize the available services to help their municipalities expend their opioid settlement funds. Julia Newhall also shared that Mosaic hosted an event to celebrate one year of grantmaking on October 8.

BSAS Epidemiologist Casey Leon updated the Advisory Council on changes to municipal reporting requirements and shared a status update of reports received. Highlights from the ensuing discussion are summarized below:

- Varia Harik: Asked why the strategies component was eliminated from the reporting requirement.
- Casey Leon: Replied that the strategy and implementation portion led to confusion in prior reports and the goal of the reports is to solicit more quantitative data and feedback on the work that is being done.
- Taylor McAndrew: Inquired about who at the municipality level receives the request for information.
- Julia Newhall: Informed Taylor that the fiscal person receives the request.
- John McGahan: Requested information on towns that have not spent their opioid settlement dollars.
- Julia Newhall: Stated that a small percentage of municipalities did not spend any of their received funds in 2024.
- John McGahan: Asked whether there is a mechanism to retrieve unspent funds from municipalities.
- Julia Newhall: Said that municipalities can send their dollars back to the state ORRF fund by reaching out to the Attorney General's Office.
- John McGahan: Questioned whether municipalities receive guidance on spending their funds.
- Julia Newhall: Replied yes.
- Nicole Schmitt: Added that municipalities that receive smaller amounts are allowed to pool their dollars together to fund more impactful initiatives and programs.

- Casey Leon: Stated that municipalities that pool their funds together also submit the report together.

Initiative Spotlight: Shaping a Path Forward: Julia Newhall presented on other state structures to expend opioid settlement dollars. Julia explored themes of other state advisory councils including having a clear mandate, governance structure, and strategic planning and investments. BSAS Director Deirdre Calvert walked through a live survey to solicit feedback on the Advisory Council's role, ideal level of engagement, commitment, and more. See meeting slides for more information on the survey.

Advisory Council members generally expressed a willingness to commit more time to the ORRF Advisory Council. Their survey results also indicated that the group is interested in creating subcommittees to utilize each member's expertise. They also expressed a desire to conduct more work related to data analytics, evaluation, and strategic planning.

Vote to Adjourn: Assistant Secretary Marqusee requested a motion to adjourn, made by Vaira Harik and seconded by Charles Anderson. Meeting adjourned (see detailed record of votes above – Vote 3).
