An Example Document

This document contains some common features such as text, headings, images, decorative images, a table, and an infographic section that needs a specific reading order.
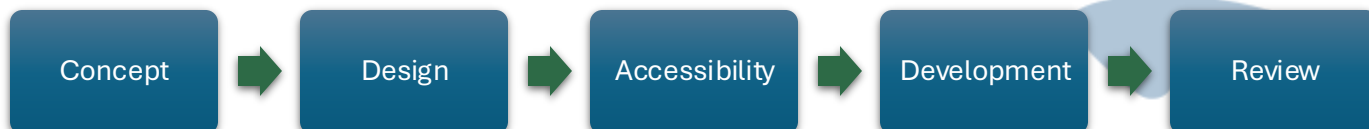

Images that need alt text

This image requires alt text. Appropriate alt text for this photo might be "The Doric Hall in the Massachusetts State House. The green banner at the top of the page, and the swirl graphic at the bottom of the page are purely decorative, and do not need alt text, as they do not provide any context, functionality or emotion.

A table that needs headers and a description

Estimated number of college students by city

City	2023	2024
Boston	163,000	160,000
Worcester	35,000	36,000

An infographic timeline that needs a specific reading order

Concept → Design → Accessibility → Development → Review

It's important to note that even if your text would be presented in an infographic like format, you should never use an image of text. Always use actual text in your source document when exporting to PDF. This will allow for screen reader access and proper zoom and reflow in your document.