Nobody asks to be raped. Sexual assault is a crime of violence and has nothing to do with lust or passion. Anyone, male or female can be sexually assaulted. A rapist can be male or female, an inmate or a staff member. Sexual orientation is not a factor. Perpetrators may be either heterosexual or homosexual. The victims can be either heterosexual or homosexual. 90% to 95% of male victims who are raped do not report it. 52% of all females have experienced some sort of sexual victimization. The victim of an assault is a “victim” and is not at fault. Talk to a staff member. We care about your safety.
