To whom it may concern,

I urge you to lift net metering caps on solar and to do ALL that is possible to incentivize solar energy production and usage, both personal and commercial. It's time to get with the program and that program is combatting climate change. We will not thrive, and may not survive, without a full force effort to move toward renewable energy. Now is the time to take this very seriously and do your job as an employee of the Department of Energy Resources.

Thank you in advance.

Sincerely,

Bri McAlevey
