

Overnight Closures of Storrow Drive Eastbound and Soldiers Field Road Eastbound

Storrow Drive from North Harvard Street to Mugar Way

April 5, 2026 - Summer 2026 | 8:00 p.m. - 5:00 a.m.

What is Happening?

DCR and MassDOT are performing interim repairs on the eastbound Storrow Drive tunnel in Boston. During the upcoming nightly closures, work will entail concrete repairs to the underside of the tunnel ceiling.

When is this Happening?

Nightly closures are scheduled to begin April 5, 2026, and will occur Sunday through Thursday from 8:00 p.m. to 5:00 a.m. This closure is expected to continue through Summer 2026 for Phase 1. Repair operations and staging will make and consider accommodations for major and local events as determined by DCR and MassDOT.

What Area will be Affected?

Soldiers Field Road and Storrow Drive eastbound lanes will be closed between North Harvard Street in Allston and the Storrow Drive Tunnel in Back Bay. Drivers are encouraged to seek alternative routes. A detour will be in place at the Eliot Bridge, from North Harvard Street over the Anderson Bridge to Memorial Drive in Cambridge, and into Boston using the Longfellow Bridge. Traffic patterns will be clearly marked. Signage will direct them to continue east on Memorial Drive until they turn right onto the Longfellow Bridge back to Storrow Drive eastbound.
