To Whom it May Concern;

I am not sure if this is the correct email for this, but this is in regards to continuing education for hoisting licenses. I think that for those who have multiple hoisting license restrictions they should have to attend a 4hour class for the first license and then a 2 hour class for any additional classes. Also maybe have them attend either a CPR or a First aid course every other year. Just a suggestion. Again I am sorry if this isn't what this was for.

Sincerely,

Tom Matthews
