<http://www.cdc.gov/ncbddd/autism/actearly/default.htm>

This information from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) provides bulleted information on the developmental milestones for children from 3 months to 5 years of age and offers developmental warning signs for each age group. The site also offers interactive tools for users to specify certain ages, select areas of development, and examine expected changes in milestones over time.

<http://www.kidsgrowth.com/stages/guide/index.cfm>

This site provides brief paragraphs summarizing what is commonly observed at various ages from birth to 18 years. It includes bulleted descriptions of specific skills in many areas, including development and feeding behavior. The site also provides considerable parenting resources and advice, with content overseen by a medical advisory board.

<http://www.babycenter.com/baby/babydevelopment/index>

This site provides information on development and key issues by age (birth to 8 years). Milestone charts and common questions/issues and resources are provided for each age. In many cases, milestone charts are organized by skills that most kids this age can do, emerging skills that about half of kids this age can do, and advanced skills that a few kids this age can do. There also is a section on what to expect when, with a list of common questions from parents about their children's development. Considerable information is provided about warning signs for developmental delays.

<http://www.talaris.org/timeline.htm>

This site provides a timeline of development of skills in children birth to 5 years, with references for further information. It also provides "Research Spotlights," many of which combine 60-second video spots with information on key parenting issues and related topics.
