Welcome to DCR's Freetown-Fall River State Forest

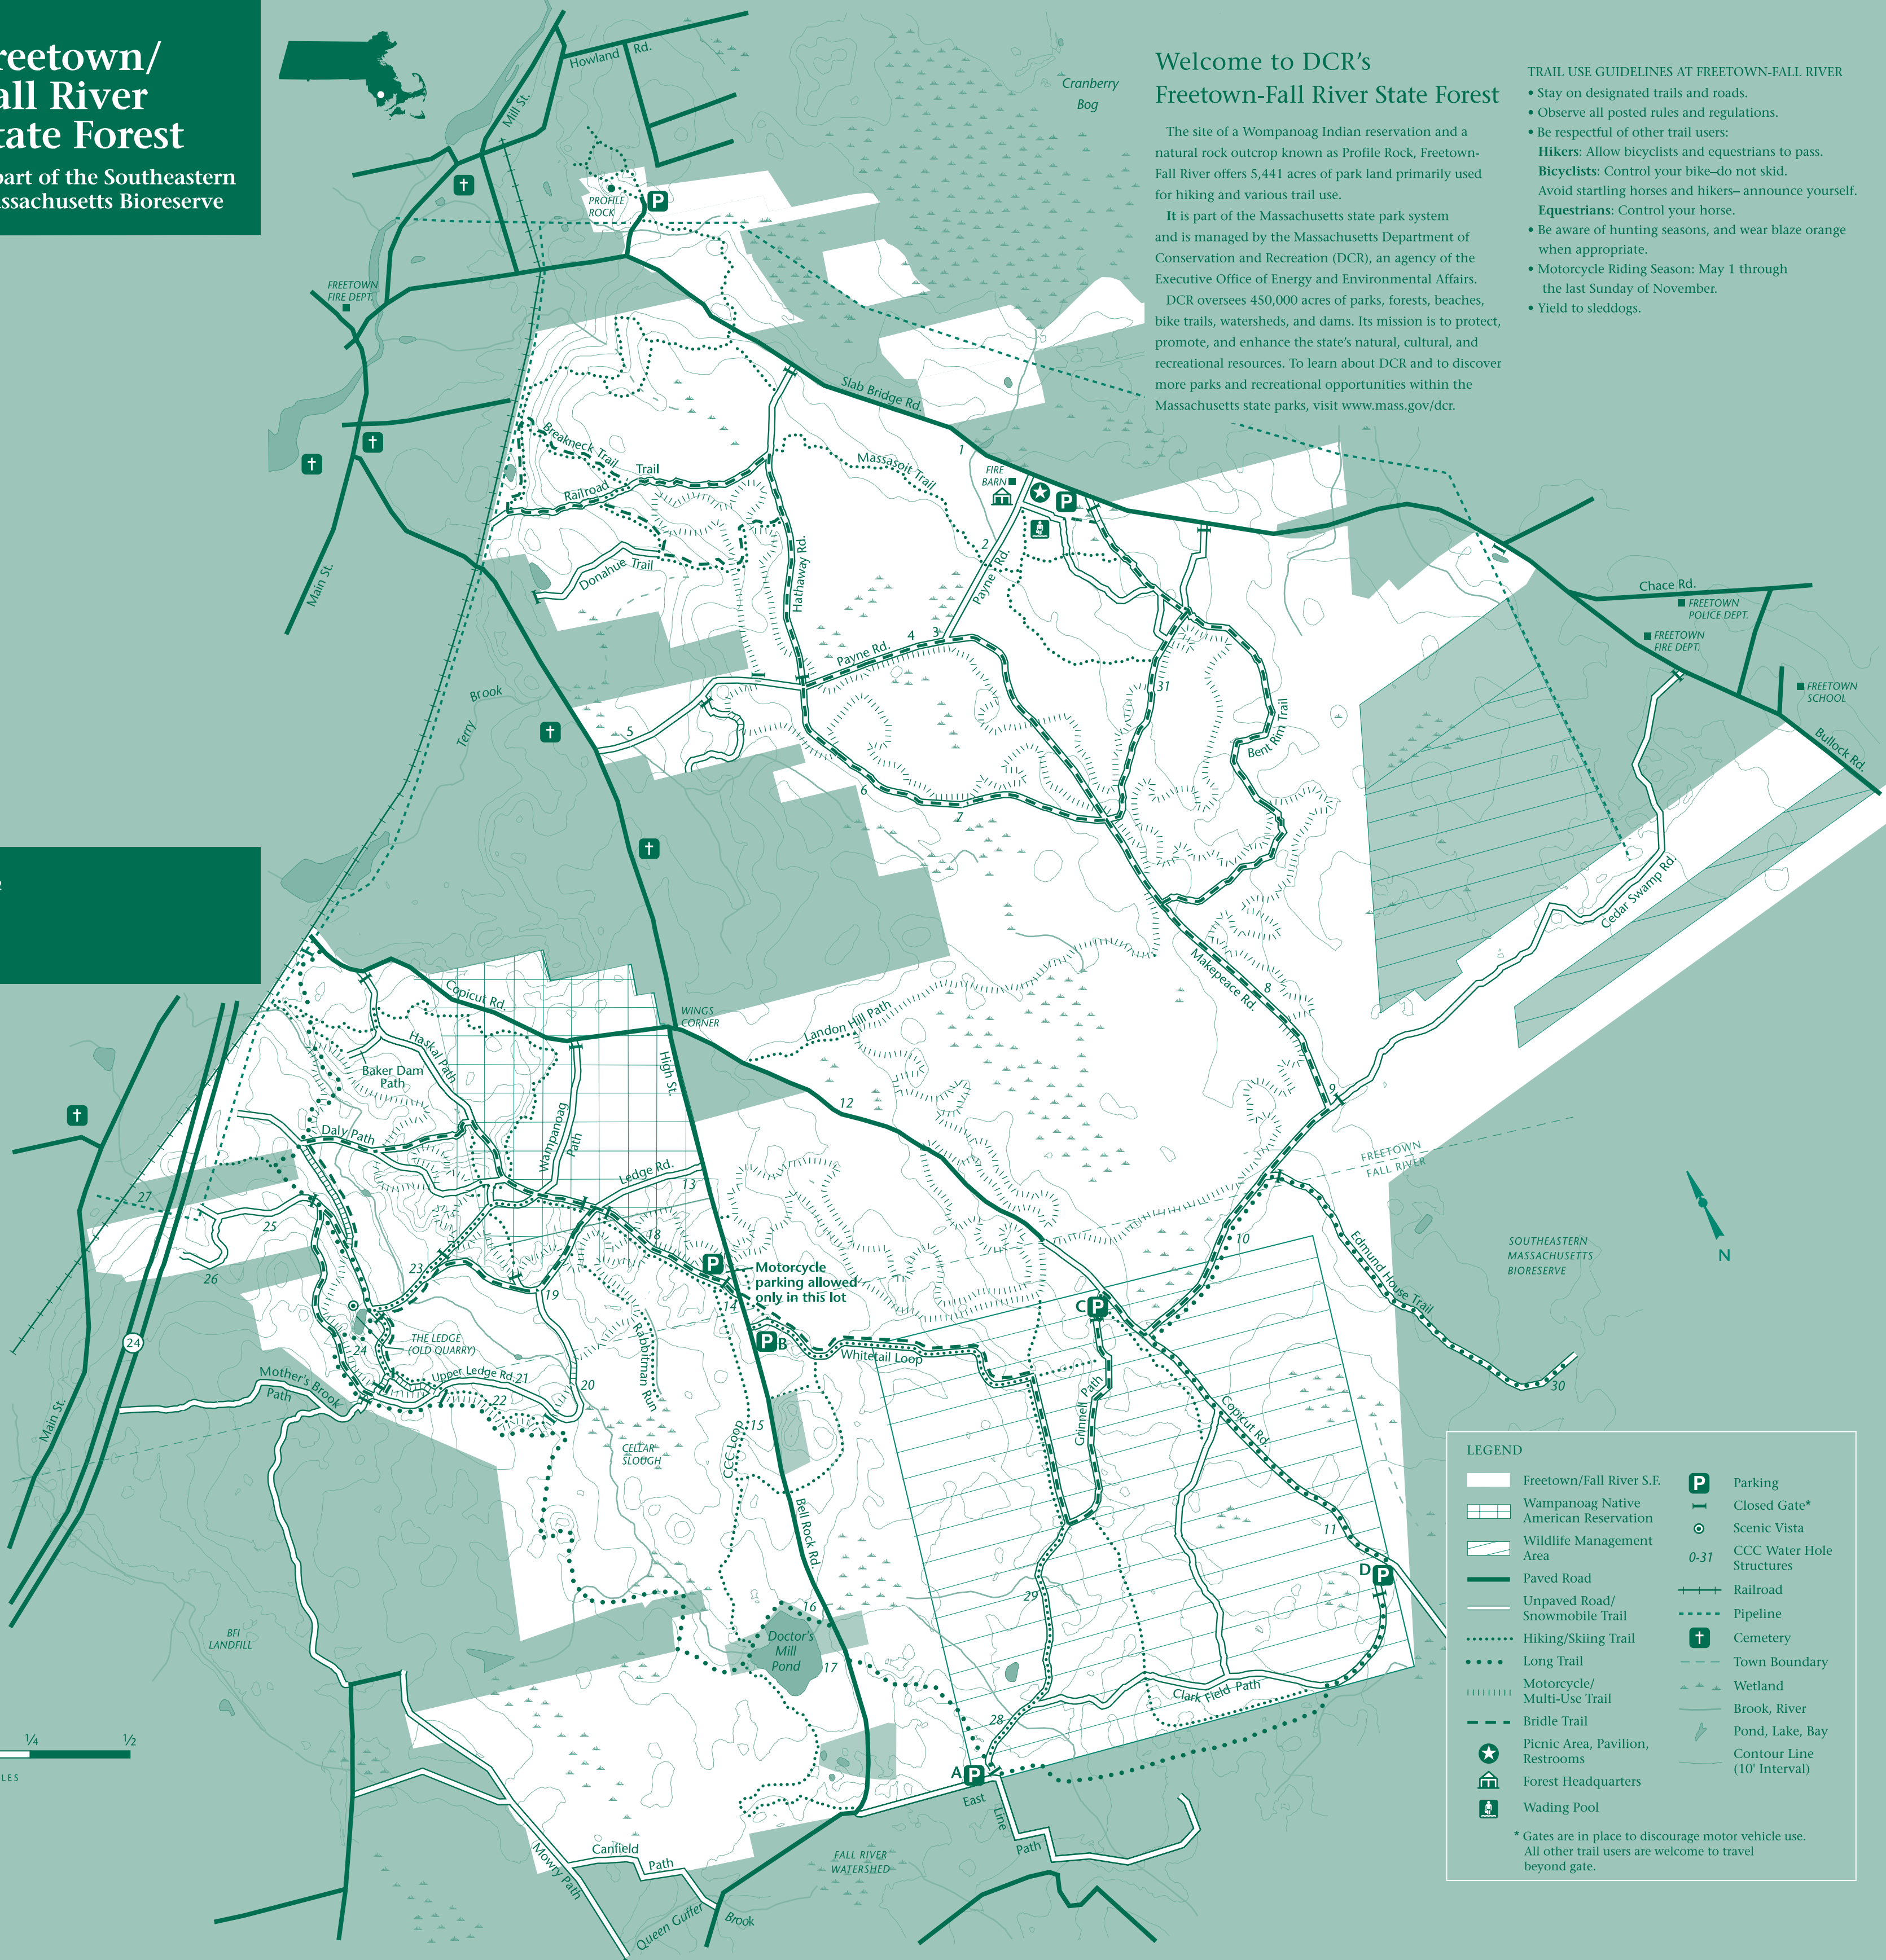

The site of a Wampanoag Indian reservation and a natural rock outcrop known as Profile Rock, Freetown-Fall River offers 5,441 acres of park land primarily used for hiking and various trail use.

It is part of the Massachusetts state park system and is managed by the Massachusetts Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR), an agency of the Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs.

DCR oversees 450,000 acres of parks, forests, beaches, bike trails, watersheds, and dams. Its mission is to protect, promote, and enhance the state's natural, cultural, and recreational resources. To learn about DCR and to discover more parks and recreational opportunities within the Massachusetts state parks, visit www.mass.gov/dcr.
