"AS"
18. Describe the experience, and length of experience, of the Corporation's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Operations Officer, and Chief Financial Officer with providing health care services.

James Lomastro, CEO, has spent 35 years as CEO, CFO and/or Administrator of the companies described in the response to Question 17 - all health care services companies. Accomplishments include facility elevation from 1 to 4 stars in 18 months; facility removal from the 6-month cycle in 6 months; facility reduction in deficiencies from 28 to 4; leading a $15 million, 60-bed acute rehabilitation facility with ambulatory care services, encompassing 200 employees with a $9 million operating budget; representing Mercy Medical Center on local, state and national organizations; accreditation efforts resulting in recognition from Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities for being among the top 3% institutions nationally; facility recognition for excellence in leadership, customer service and outcome assessment by placing as a finalist in the Baldrige award; performing in the top 25% of Premier Healthcare Resource's productivity database; maintaining client satisfaction over 90%; renovation of Outpatient Center (1990) from commercial space into a clinic for head injured residents; creation of a 40 bed forensic hospital within an acute hospital setting (1993); and creation of a 40 bed transitional care unit (1997).

Since 2010, Richard Rondeau, COO, has provided services at TGD in compliance with applicable laws and best practices for patients with debilitating medical conditions, while maintaining quality control and meeting patient expectations. Rondeau shaped TGD's medical business as a pain management, health and wellness resource for patients in connection with holistic medical and wellness consultation and services. The foregoing has included opportunities for patient participation in workshops conducted by support groups regarding medical cannabis therapies in combination with complementary and alternative medicines. Rondeau also prioritized at TGD the protection of patient confidential health care information ("PHI"), ensuring that personnel understood the scope and meaning of patient confidentiality, PHI and related policies and procedures.

As President of Summit Medical Compassion Center (a RI medical marijuana establishment) since 2012, Mr. Spaziano, CFO, implemented the mission statement "Service+Education+Collaboration= Wellness" by overseeing Summit's provision of counseling and education to patients on administration methods and research on health effects of medical marijuana. Spaziano created an intake/orientation process for patients marked by compassionate, informative and one-one-one interaction to maximize patient "wellness" as follows: meeting a Summit professional to register, to understand all services and products available, and to review a "New Patient Packet". Such has enabled patients to become more informed on health care and wellness, including Summit's rules and guidelines, alternative dosage forms, cannabis strains, and emerging clinical applications for cannabinoids.
19. Describe the experience, and length of experience, of the Corporation’s Chief Executive Officer, Chief Operations Officer, and Chief Financial Officer with providing services for marijuana for medical purposes.

James Lomastro, CEO, does not have experience with providing services for medical marijuana purposes.

Richard Rondeau, COO, has managed and operated all aspects of TGD since 2010. TGD is a vertically integrated, medical and retail, licensed marijuana facility in Denver. In such capacity and time period, Rondeau developed staffing models for dispensary and cultivation operations, and training protocols specific to such; all human resources functions, including hiring policies, desired skill sets and ongoing education; all physical security and safety features with respect to the premises, personnel and patients; point-of-sale and inventory tracking systems specific to the medical marijuana industry, including compliance with State mandated patient registration and plant count matters; and standard operating procedures and protocols with respect to dispensing medicine, cultivating medicinal cannabis, and enhancing safety and security. In connection with TGD, Rondeau has overseen its operational and financial performance, compliance with City and State requirements (i.e. fire, packaging, labeling, licensing and renewals), payroll and tax matters, and ongoing accounting and record keeping with 26 U.S.C. 280E in mind. In addition, Rondeau has ensured the presence of strict policies and adherence thereto in connection with pesticide matters, CO2 requirements, quality control testing, plant count requirements, patient privacy, and State medical enrollment.

Since 2012, Armand Spaziano, CFO, has served as President of Summit, a vertically integrated medical marijuana establishment in RI servicing thousands of patients. In such capacity and time period, Spaziano has overseen the design and build out of dispensary and cultivation facilities. He has advised on optimal floor plans; equipment; OSHA; quality control and testing methods relating to chemical compound composition, potency and contamination; packaging and labeling; transportation and delivery; staffing and training; and SOP manuals. Spaziano has ensured that Summit remain current on newly developed educational materials, and that a seed-to-sale inventory tracking program is tied into a point of sale system for regulatory compliance and fiscal control. Spaziano has also directed Summit’s outreach efforts to the conventional medical community and stakeholders such as local law enforcement and elected officials. In terms of business performance, Spaziano has guided Summit’s implementation and maintenance of business strategies, budgets, technology, regulatory compliance, and protection of patient confidential health care information. Such has enabled pharmaceutical grade medicine to be made available to patients in a responsible, quality controlled and legally compliant manner. As such, Spaziano brings a medical marijuana perspective developed in a strict regulatory market in New England, and experience in creating and growing a start-up medical marijuana non-profit business.
20. Describe the experience, and length of experience, of the Corporation’s individual/entity responsible for marijuana for medical use cultivation operations and individual/entity responsible for the RMD security plan and security operations with providing services for marijuana for medical purposes.

Richard Rondeau, Cultivation Manager, is a medical cannabis cultivator dating back to 2010 and his Master Grower position at TGD. Rondeau’s experience with marijuana for medical use cultivation operations has covered interviewing, training, supervising and working with all TGD growers; overseeing the build-out of TGD’s cultivation facility; providing safe and effective medicine for thousands of patients by implementing a true organic growth strategy, as well as an environmentally sound process for dumping biological waste matter and other sensitive materials; growing medical cannabis organically in soil, soil-less mediums and hydroponics; using various nutrient lines, additives, enhancers and blooming agents; using drain-to-waste systems to allow for the delivery of the right nutrients to each plant during the different stages of growth; and utilizing OMRI (Organic Materials Review Institute) certified nutrients so as to leave no chemical residues in the plant. Rondeau’s experience also includes using organic combative methods in a commercial grow setting to maintain the integrity of the man-made ecosystem, including the introduction of beneficial predatory insects (i.e., ladybugs in case of spider mite infestation), beneficial bacteria (i.e., “Gnatural” brand larvicide), and a wide variety of all natural fungicides, mildewcides, algaeicides, and virucides based on necessity. Rondeau's experience has also covered, with respect to quality control, using advanced analysis to scientifically quantify medicinal cannabis through analysis of moisture content, cannabinoid composition and potency, microbiological contamination, and presence/absence of pesticides.

Henry Roy, Security Manager, as principal in RI Private Detectives & Protective Services, LLC, is experienced in providing security services for medical marijuana matters. Dating back to 2011, Roy helped establish security protocols and designs for the premises and operations of Summit Medical Compassion Center, a RI medical marijuana establishment. Roy was critical in (i) implementing and advancing safety and security plans and measures for Summit’s premises, personnel and patients, (ii) implementing coordination and liaison activities with local and State law enforcement, (iii) implementing and advancing Summit’s emergency action plans and procedures, and related training and compliance, and (iv) coordinating spokesperson matters relating to law enforcement, safety and security. Roy, through his work with Summit, is experienced with safety and security plans specific to medical marijuana operations, including state-of-art security systems including door switches, motion detectors and vault seismic detectors; alarm systems monitored redundantly by two UL-approved alarm companies; digital CCTV systems; marijuana transportation/delivery best practices; establishment of secure areas inside the RMD; and the provision of trained guards for security and safety.
SECTION E. OPERATIONS

21. Provide a summary of the RMD’s operating procedures for the cultivation of marijuana for medical use.

LC offers exclusively Massachusetts-grown marijuana, proudly cultivated with the highest compliance and production standards, in our state-of-art facility by our own team. Our cultivation environment encourages plants to achieve their full genetic potential. We employ the latest and most advanced growing techniques, applying our cultivation team’s extensive knowledge in organic pest management, nutrient delivery, atmospheric and environmental controls and strain selection.

Our professional cultivation process delivers consistent, high quality marijuana that is potent and effective from a therapeutic standpoint. The quality is characterized by the following:

- Carefully selected phenotypes and a large variety of superior strains ranging from sativa to indica-dominant, including but not limited to hybrid and high CBD strains.

- Free of pesticides and contaminants.

- Hand harvested and trimmed to respect the delicate nature of the mature marijuana plant.

- Slowly cured to perfection through a drying and curing process marked by daily observation and analysis.

- Tested by a third-party testing facility to accurately measure THC, CBD and CBN content as well as to ensure that the marijuana is free of pesticides, molds and fungus.

- Safe and sealed packaging.

LC has identified particular stages for its growing procedures to ensure the success of its operation. Daily procedures shall include inventory counts, recording of environmental observations, plant feeding, pruning and plant tagging. At the beginning of the Vegetative Stage, all plants shall be fitted with a bar-coded tag containing a unique code to identify the plant. The plant tag shall remain intact with the plant until processing.

LC’s growing activities shall also call for proprietary nutrient regimens as well as specific lighting set ups with respect to each of the following stages: Cloning; Early Vegetative; Mid Vegetative; Late Vegetative; Flower Week 1-6; Week 7; Flush Days 1-4; Flush Days 5-11. Plants use different combinations and strengths of nutrients relative to their size and age. Our custom nutrient regimen will be mixed in house. No ready-made fertilizer will be purchased off the shelf. The foregoing will allow for full control of plant intake and chemical composition, thereby limiting water pollution risks. Our stage-specific nutrient recipes shall utilize only natural and organic plant food. Using such nutrients shall ensure that all ingredients are non-toxic and safe for human consumption. Such an approach is not only beneficial in terms of ensuring the product is safe for human consumption, but also in terms of improving flavor, aroma and potency. An additional advantage to this cultivation approach is a 90% reduction in the cost of otherwise relying totally on the purchase of off-the-shelf pre-packaged nutrients.
22. Describe the types and forms of Marijuana Infused Products ("MIPs") that the RMD intends to produce, if any.

LC will produce 3 lines of MIPs, being concentrates, consumables and topicals, which shall include:

- Tinctures: The concentrated extracts can be formulated with glycerin or oil base (typically olive, avocado or coconut oil), and packaged in a bottle with a dropper for administration.

- Capsules/Gel-Caps: The extract can be formulated with raw coconut oil as the carrier, and filled into gelatin capsules.

- Lozenges: The extracts can been combined with traditional pharmaceutical excipients to produce oral dosing products. Excipients may include succharides, cellulose/starch, gelatin, polymers, preservatives and flavors.

- Infused Honey/Oils: The concentrated extracts can been formulated and infused into honey or coconut oil. For honey infusion, the incorporation of an emulsifier may aid in the preparation of a homogeneous mixture.

- Topicals/Salves: The extracts can be mixed with various ingredients to produce lotions or salves. Constituents can include a wide variety of essential oils in addition to bees wax, coco butter, shea butter, vitamin E, lanolin, and aloe vera.

- Vaporizing Products: The extract can formulated with carriers specific for vaporizers and may include polyethylene glycol as the primary carrier.

- Fresh-baked Goods: The extracts can be used in the preparation of traditional baked goods. By first introducing the cannabinoid extract into the oil or shortening constituents, excellent homogeneity has been observed for prepared products.
23. Provide a summary of the RMD's methods of producing MIPs, if the RMD intends to produce MIPs.

| LC will produce MIPs using Supercritical Fluid Extraction with liquid CO2 as the primary extraction solvent. While this process typically does not use organic solvents, food grade ethanol may be used to flush and clean the extraction system between extractions. For this reason, extracts will be tested for residual solvents (Volatile Organic Compounds or VOCs) using Gas Chromatography. Post extraction processing including vacuum oven drying may be used to remove trace residual ethanol constituents. No use of organic solvents other than ethanol is planned. Liquid CO2 is non-toxic, non-flammable and environmentally neutral. Extraction systems can be configured as closed loop systems to recycle spent CO2, minimizing the amount of CO2 released to the environment. Employee safety considerations will include basic training for handling compressed gases. Risks associated with CO2 use are minimal, but mitigation will be effected through an appropriate ventilation system for the processing facility. Processing, including the extraction phase, is a dirty process with oils and other debris entering the air stream. By supplying air through HEPA Filters of Fan Powered HEPA units, and recirculating the conditioned air (recirculating includes mixing the return air with fresh outside air), impurities are removed from the space creating a cleaner environment. Utilizing clean room standards for pressure and air flow will allow the room's air to be cleansed of suspended particles. |
24. Provide a summary of the RMD’s operating procedures for the provision for security at the RMD.
25. Provide a summary of the RMD's operating procedures for the prevention of the diversion of marijuana.
26. Provide a summary of the RMD's operating procedures for the storage of marijuana for medical use.
27. Provide a summary of the RMD’s operating procedures for the transportation of marijuana for medical use.
28. Provide a summary of the RMD's operating procedures for inventory management.
29. Provide a summary of the RMD's operating procedures for quality control and testing of product for potential contaminants.

To achieve consistency in quality and purity, LC will follow procedures to accommodate for weak plants, disease prevention, appropriate climate and atmospheric conditions, appropriate watering cycles, ideal feeding regiments, ideal medium conditions (temperature, oxygen levels, pH, pest and disease monitoring). Each harvest of raw marijuana and each batch of concentrates and MIPs produced will be tested using composite sampling techniques to ensure all tests are representative of the bulk product. Testing performed will depend on the intended use of the product. For marijuana flower provided directly as product, after curing and drying, flower will be tested as a final product. For material destined for additional processing, testing will depend on processing steps employed and may include cannabinoid profiling, as well as testing for pesticides, residual solvents (Volatile Organic Compounds), and microbiological contaminants. For processing and formulations, routine cannabinoid profiling will be used at each step to identify particular cannabinoid forms (acid or neutral), as well as their concentrations. These analyses will be crucial in determining proper formulation and dosing for the desired products. For final formulations, samples will be drawn from homogenized bulk samples prior to packaging or filling. For oral dosed products, including edibles, capsules and lozenges, multiple units will be tested from each batch to confirm cannabinoid dosing and product homogeneity.
30. Provide a summary of the RMD’s operating procedures for maintaining confidentiality of registered qualifying patients, personal caregivers, and dispensary agents, as required by law.

LC is committed to protection of protected and confidential health care information ("PHI"), and properly training staff on such, with respect to qualifying patients, personal caregivers and dispensary agents. LC privacy policies and procedures provide that: PHI access will be restricted to trained employees; data will be stored in secured data centers; patients and caregivers will receive a copy of "Notice of Privacy Policies"; paper records will be kept in locked cabinets; electronic records will be “HIPAA” compliant; and employees and agents will sign Confidentiality Agreements. All staff is held accountable to report any breach of confidentiality. Dispensing, data collection and product effectiveness records will be tracked according to the patients’ and caregivers’ registry identification numbers to protect confidentiality.

LC understands that a high level of confidentiality will also be maintained with the personal information of dispensary agents required in their personnel files. LC will require and verify professional references for each candidate. References will be documented using a standard template and kept in a locked filing cabinet, later to be placed in the agent’s personnel file if hired. LC will also require that potential dispensary agents pass a pre-employment state and federal background check. Furthermore, to protect member confidentiality, cell phone use, including texting, is strictly prohibited inside the RMD.
31. Provide a summary of the RMD’s personnel policies.

LC employs highly trained personnel in a staffing plan that ensures effective and proper safety and security, training and education, collegiality and teamwork, economic benefits and opportunities, and codes of conduct.

The principles will be outlined in an employee handbook, available to all employees and will provide an overview of the history, the business plan and the structure of the company; information about benefits available to employees; and an outline of the policies and procedures which are conditions of employment, following current regulations.

LC is committed to providing equal employment opportunity to all applicants and employees. Moreover, LC will not tolerate harassment or intimidation of our employees on any basis prohibited by law. The entire management team is committed to such policy, its enforcement as well as to ongoing compliance with all pertinent statutes and regulations, including without limitation those related to background checks; disqualifying drug convictions; disciplinary policies, procedures and records; inspection, security, safety and other related requirements; confidentiality; job descriptions; employment contract policies; business records; personnel files; code of conducts and alcohol and drug-free workplace policies.

LC intends to pay well above the minimum wage in recognition of the fact that our employees have specialized knowledge and perform difficult work.
32. Provide a summary of the RMD’s operating procedures for dispensing of marijuana for medical use.
33. Provide a summary of the RMD’s operating procedures for record keeping.

LC will maintain sales records for 5 years covering the name of the registered patient or caregiver to whom medical marijuana was dispensed, the date, the quantity, the form of medicine and the price. Our records will also be able to indicate any equipment that has been sold or distributed.

LC’s accounting system offers state-of-the-art security features and back-up reliability, and provides the most features and efficient customization available. Electronic equipment will be set up on a reliable and secure network, using unique login identification, including usage of secure remote access to an off-premise server for software activity, all in compliance with HIPAA. All individually identifiable patient health or marijuana information which LC creates, receives, maintains or transmits in an electronic form will be deemed protected health care information.

Utilizing such software, LC will maintain and/or provide (i) patient records in a confidential, privileged and secure environment in accordance with HIPAA standards, which records will be used daily by LC staff for patient registration, verification and information with respect to dispensary transactions, and (ii) scanned document storage and retrieval, operating procedures, inventory records, seed-to-sale tracking records, personnel records, sales reports and other business records, waste disposal records, and other administrative and regulatory reporting functions in a manner that is fully compliant with HIPAA standards.
34. Provide a summary of the RMD's plans for providing patient education.

LC will provide counseling and educational materials regarding strain selection, methods of marijuana administration, and information and research studies on the health effects of marijuana, to registered qualifying patients and their personal caregivers.

Such a program is driven by compassionate, informative, one-on-one or peer-based interaction led by LC's professional staff in collaboration with subject matter experts, and commence with the intake/orientation process. The intake/orientation process will provide patients with a comprehensive understanding of LC's rules and code of conduct, special discount programs, available marijuana products, library resources and the basic information described below (with an emphasis on being smart and respectful, and "going slow", with respect to use, dosage and potency). At LC, we understand that medical marijuana is a natural, safe and beneficial treatment option for many debilitating conditions; however, the potential does exist for patients to become habituated or addicted to its use. LC has an obligation to assist, and will assist, in patient understanding of the following:

-Continued One-On-One Interviews and Training Sessions;

-Events, Seminars and Workshops;

-Patient Information and Education Center;

-Ongoing Medical Studies and Research;

-Ongoing Legal Compliance;

-Outreach with the medical community;

-Signs of addictive use and dependence;

-Drug addiction symptoms or behaviors; and

-When to see a doctor.
35. Provide a summary of the RMD's operating procedures for patient or personal caregiver home-delivery, if the RMD plans to provide home-delivery services.
36. Provide a summary of the RMD’s policies and procedures for the provision of marijuana for medical use to registered qualifying patients with verified financial hardship without charge or at less than the market price.

LC will establish a strict policy in order to maintain consistency in assisting indigent patients who request a reduction or waiver of cost of medicine. The application and approval process for indigent patients will take into account the overall financial circumstances of the applicant, and LC will apply such process consistently. If approved, LC may elect to reduce or waive certain amounts which are due from patients who can successfully demonstrate that paying for their medicine would cause significant financial hardship.

LC will take into account a range of factors when deciding on such reduction or waiver, including without limitation the applicant’s earnings, living expenses, assets and debts. Written verification, when available, may be required to substantiate and verify information contained in the financial hardship application, and in the decision with respect to a reduction or waiver.

LC will also use 300% of the current year’s Federal Poverty Level adjusted for family size as a guideline to help in determining if an applicant qualifies for a financial hardship waiver.

In applying these guidelines, LC will also consider and take into account any other income and expenses including money earned in the entire household. Income and employment status verification may be required, including but not limited to tax returns and check stubs.

(a) by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of disinterested Directors;

(b) if such a quorum cannot be obtained, then by a majority vote of a committee of the Board consisting of all the disinterested Directors;

(c) if there are not two or more disinterested Directors in office, then by a majority of the Directors then in office, provided they have obtained a written finding by special independent legal counsel appointed by a majority of the Directors to the effect that, based upon a reasonable investigation of the relevant facts as described in such opinion, the person to be indemnified appears to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his/her action was in the best interests of the Corporation (or, to the extent that such matter relates to service with respect to an employee benefit plan, in the best interests of the participants or beneficiaries of such employee benefit plan); or
Liberty Compassion Center, Inc. – Application 1 of 3 (Question 10)

(d) by a court of competent jurisdiction.

If authorized in the manner specified above for compromise payments, expenses including counsel fees, reasonably incurred by any such person in connection with the defense or disposition of any such action, suit or other proceeding may be paid from time to time by the Corporation in advance of the final disposition thereof upon receipt of (a) an affidavit of such individual of his/her good faith belief that he/she has met the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification under this Article, and (b) an undertaking by such individual to repay the amounts so paid to the Corporation if it is ultimately determined that indemnification for such expenses is not authorized by law or under this Article, which undertaking may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of such person to make repayment.

If both the Corporation and any person to be indemnified are parties to an action, suit or proceeding (other than an action or suit by or in the right of the Corporation to procure a judgment in its favor), counsel representing the Corporation therein may also represent such indemnified person (unless such dual representation would involve such counsel in a conflict of interest in violation of applicable principles of professional ethics), and the Corporation shall pay all fees and expenses of such counsel incurred during the period of dual representation other than those, if any, as would not have been incurred if counsel were representing only the Corporation; and any allocation made in good faith by such counsel of fees and disbursements payable under this paragraph by the Corporation versus fees and disbursements payable by any such indemnified person shall be final and binding upon the Corporation and such indemnified person.

The right of indemnification hereby provided shall not be exclusive of or affect any other rights to which any such indemnified person may be entitled. Nothing contained in this Article shall affect any rights to indemnification to which corporate personnel other than the persons designated in this Article may be entitled by contract, by vote of the Board, or otherwise under law.
