Introduction

The Massachusetts Municipal Medicaid Program coordinates claims by local education authorities (LEAs) for partial federal reimbursement of qualifying direct health services provided to MassHealth members in schools and of administrative support expenditures incurred in providing those services. LEAs receive detailed guidance about claiming for administrative support expenditures in the Massachusetts Administrative Claiming Manual. One component of administrative claiming is the completion of a time study. This Time Study Training Manual represents part of an ongoing effort by MassHealth and the Center for Health Care Financing (the Center) at the University of Massachusetts Medical School to provide support to Municipal Medicaid Providers in connection with the Medicaid reimbursement process.

This Training Manual is a support tool to assist school personnel in their Administrative Activity Claim (AAC) logging activities and to explain to school personnel how to perform an AAC time study. Section II of this Manual describes the time logging procedures in detail. Section III itemizes and provides examples of the nine (9) categories of activity into which time study participants divide their workday.

Administrative Activity Claiming

In order for your district to submit a claim for reimbursement from the federal government, there are a number of steps that the district must take to adhere to the federally approved methodology for identifying costs.

A random sample of school direct service and direct support personnel must participate in an AAC time study for five consecutive days for each of the three quarters of the school year. The sample, as determined by a statistician, must have a 95% confidence level, with plus or minus 5% precision. Time study quarters are defined as:

- October - December
- January - March
- April – June

The District must utilize an average of the data from the previous three quarters for claiming purposes for the fourth quarter.

The District must determine the school personnel eligible to participate in this program based on the actual function that such personnel perform, not on their job title. Time study participants select from 9 categories of activities the activity that most closely corresponds to the predominant activity they are performing during each 15-minute time interval. These nine categories are listed in Section III.

It is important that personnel take the time to understand these categories and correctly identify those they perform during the week of the time study. The activities are segregated to identify reimbursable versus non-reimbursable costs as well as to track activities that are reimbursed by the federal government. There is a code that will correspond with all functions performed by personnel completing the time study. It is important that time is tracked according to the activity being performed rather than for whom the activity is being performed (whether or not the student personnel are working with is on Medicaid is not relevant for the time study).

Time Logs

The AAC Time Study takes place on 5 consecutive logging days. For each logging day, the time log for each participant is divided into 15-minute intervals. Personnel should record the predominant activity they perform in each 15-minute interval for the total number of hours they work on days of the time study. Only one of the activity codes can be recorded for each 15-minute interval. If more than one task is performed in a 15-minute time period, personnel must use their judgment to decide on the predominant activity. Over the course of an hour there will be four activities recorded—one for each 15-minutes of the hour. For example, if an individual starts at 8:00am he would choose and fill in one code performed from 8:00-8:15, a second for 8:15-8:30 and so on. The study should be completed for the total number of hours worked each day during the five consecutive days the study is being conducted.

Logging Form Sections

School District Personnel must complete each of the following Logging Form sections:

1. School Provider Number - This is an LEA's unique number, which is used to bill the Medicaid program.
2. School District Name - The name of the school district where time study is being completed.
3. Job Position Number - Please refer to Tables I and II for a list of job position numbers.
4. Job Position Description - A brief description of the school personnel's job position.
5. Date - Date completing the time study.
6. Signature - sign the time study form in order to verify completion of the time study.
7. Activity Code - This is the activity code that best describes the predominant activity performed at a particular time interval.

Logging Procedures

In order to ensure the accuracy and timeliness of the Administrative Activity Claim School personnel must follow these procedures when completing the time study. Complete the time study form for the entire duration of the time study. If school personnel are absent on one of the logging days due to personal leave, vacation, illness or school cancellation, complete the form for the day absent and fill-in 'H' General Administration & Overhead for the entire scheduled workday.

Common Logging Errors

- Filling in multiple bubbles for one 15-minute interval - Fill in only one bubble per 15-minute interval. Fill in a bubble for the predominant activity performed during that 15-minute interval.
- Leaving blank bubbles - For each 15-minute increment of the workday, one bubble must be filled in. The nine AAC categories are designed to account for all activities performed during the day, including lunches and breaks.
