“This program has given so much to me that I wanted to give back. As a graduate of the program, I come back to teach the participants the impor-tance of health screens be-cause I want these men to be role models for their children, wife, and families. As a father, I find that children mimic what we do,”

Former participant and now Fatherhood Program instructor.

The Five Principles of Fatherhood

The Fatherhood Program is based on five principles which are incorporated in the weekly meetings.

Fathers are required to learn the five principles which they recite at the start of each session. They are often called upon to provide examples of these principles which serve as the foundation of the program.

As a Father it is my responsibility to:

1. Give affection to my children.
2. Give gentle guidance to my children.
3. Provide financial support to my children and the mother of my children.
4. Demonstrate respect at all times to the mother of my children.
5. Set a proud example for my children by living within the law and without the taint of alcohol/drug abuse.
