

CDL Self-Certification Form

As a Commercial Driver's License (CDL) or Commercial Learners Permit holder, you are federally required to inform the Registry of Motor Vehicles (RMV) of the type of commerce in which you operate (interstate or intrastate), and whether or not you are required to hold a US DOT Medical Examiner's Certificate (also referred to as a medical certificate or medical card). If you are an NI or NA categorized driver, you will need to re-certify, using this same form, prior to each expiration of your medical certificate. Depending on the validity period of your certificate, you will most likely have to re-certify every 1-2 years. Failure to complete your initial self-certification, or to re-certify by your self-certification expiration date thereafter, will result in the downgrade of your CDL to a Class D license. EI and EA categorized drivers will be required to re-certify every five years at the time of license renewal. A driver may also need to re-certify prior to an expiration date if the type of driving that is conducted has changed or if the driver has been issued a new medical certificate.

I certify my commercial driving is:

- Non-Excepted Interstate (NI)* (copy of medical certificate required) – I engage in Interstate commerce and must meet the federal DOT medical certificate requirements
- Excepted Interstate (EI) – I engage in Interstate commerce and do not have to meet the DOT medical certificate requirements
- Non-Excepted Intrastate (NA)* (copy of medical certificate required) – I engage in Intrastate commerce and must meet state driver qualification requirements
- Excepted Intrastate (EA)– I engage in Intrastate commerce and do not have to meet the DOT medical certificate requirements

*If you selected the NI or NA category and do not have a W restriction on your license, you must fill out the medical certificate portion of this form on page two (2), and provide a copy of your medical certificate.

If you have a federal medical variance, a state waiver, or a Skill Performance Evaluation Certificate (SPE), which is indicated on your medical certificate, you must also provide a copy of this documentation.

You should self-certify at the highest standard for which you qualify so as not to limit work opportunities. Non-excepted Interstate (NI) is the broadest category and the one you should select if you meet the criteria, even if you currently do not consider yourself an interstate driver.

Condition #6 only applies to a very limited number of drivers who fall under a federal grandfather clause that limits them to a one year medical certificate. If condition #6 is selected on your medical certificate and you do not fall under the grandfather clause, condition #6 was most likely chosen by the medical examiner in error. You should return to the medical examiner to request a revised medical certificate.
