HEARING OFFICER'S DECISION AND ORDER

SUMMARY

The issues in this matter are whether the City of Lawrence (City) violated Section 10(a)(5) and, derivatively, Section 10(a)(1) of Massachusetts General Laws Chapter 150E (the Law) by implementing a dress code and changing the City’s parking policy for City employees without first giving the Massachusetts Nurses Association (Association) prior notice and opportunity to bargain to resolution or impasse about the decision to change the City’s parking policy and implement a dress code and the impact of those decisions on employees’ terms and conditions of employment. Based on the record and for the reasons explained below, I conclude that the City did fail to bargain in good faith with the Association by implementing a dress code and changing the City’s parking policy for City employees without providing the Association notice and an opportunity to bargain over the changes and thus, did violate Section 10(a)(5) and, derivatively, Section 10(a)(1) of the Law in the manner alleged.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

On April 29, 2014, the Association filed a Charge of Prohibited Practice (Charge) with the Department of Labor Relations (DLR) alleging that the City violated Section 10(a)(5) and, derivatively, Section 10(a)(1) of the Law. Following an investigation, a duly-designated DLR Investigator issued a Complaint of Prohibited Practice (Complaint) on November 7, 2014, alleging that the City had failed to bargain in good faith with the Association by implementing a dress code and changing the City’s parking policy for City employees without first giving the Union notice and an opportunity to bargain to resolution or impasse over the decision to implement a dress code and change the parking policy and the impacts of those decisions. On or around November 26, 2014, the City filed its Answer. On or around March 15, 2016, the parties jointly submitted stipulated facts and exhibits with the DLR in lieu of an evidentiary hearing. On May 6, 2016, the City and the Union filed legal briefs regarding the issues.

STIPULATIONS OF FACT AND EXHIBITS

1. The City is a public employer within the meaning of Section 1 of G. L. c. 150E (“the Law”).

2. The Association is an employee organization within the meaning of Section 1 of the Law.

3. The Association is the exclusive bargaining representative for public health nurses employed by the City.
4. The Association and the City have been parties to a series of collective bargaining agreements, the latest of which expired on June 30, 2010 (CBA).

5. On January 15, 2014, City Mayor Daniel Rivera issued a letter to all City employees. Mayor Rivera’s January 15, 2014 letter provided as follows:

All City Employees,

The City of Lawrence strives to offer its citizens a professional atmosphere to conduct business. Please keep in mind that local business people, along with tax news, visit the City Hall and other municipal public buildings, and the first impressions are lasting impressions.

The preferred dress is office attire. All males working in an office environment, regardless of the department, are required to wear a tie. Jeans, sweat suits and pajamas are not appropriate style of dress for any employee. However, in the event that staff is scheduled to perform duties, which would damage professional clothing, jeans are acceptable if staff changes back to office attire at the completion of task. Your supervisor of the personnel department can provide you with a comprehension of safety standards.

Certainly, no T-shirts, shorts, beach type footwear or clothing that falls below “business casual” attire should or will be allowed. All of us should produce pride in the work place, and pride in the City of Lawrence. A professional appearance goes hand-in-hand with that vision.

The Mayor can declare certain days as “dress down days.” On these days, jeans and other more casual clothing, although never clothing potentially offensive to others, are allowed but only when approved by Mayor Rivera. Yes, inappropriate slacks or pants include jeans, sweatpants, exercise pants, Bermuda shorts, short shorts, bib overalls, leggings, and any spandex or other form-fitting pants such as people wear for biking.

This administration also understands that several occupations listed in the class vacation structure of the charter, as well as Collective-Bargaining Units or Federal and State Laws, call for specific work clothing gear, such as Police Officers, Undercover Law Enforcement Officials, Fire Fighters, Carpenters, and many positions in the Department of Public Works. Some of these are allowed to wear jeans or clothing as specified in the Collective Bargaining Agreement that goes hand-in-hand with the work being performed. The Department Head will be the person who will provide further guidance on these employment practices.

No dress code can cover all contingencies so employees most amount of judgment [sic] in their choice of clothing to wear to work. If you experience uncertainty about acceptable, professional business casual attire for work, please ask the Personnel Department prior to wearing such clothing.

6. Prior to January 15, 2014, the City had not adopted a formal dress code applicable to members of the Association.

7. T. Edmund Burke, Esq., works as an Associate Director for the Association. Burke’s job duties include contract administration for the Association’s bargaining unit in Lawrence.

8. On January 17, 2014, Burke sent a letter to Mayor Rivera regarding the dress code. Burke’s January 17, 2014 letter provided the following:

   Dear Mayor Rivera:

   Congratulations on your recent election. We look forward to working with your administration in improving the Public Health issues confronting the people of Lawrence.

   Recently you issued a letter regarding the establishment of a dress code. While this subject is not at issue with the Public Health Nursing Department, it is a mandatory subject of bargaining and any change must be bargained by the mutual parties. In this regard we look forward to full negotiations for the Public Health Nurses.

9. The City did not respond to Burke’s January 17, 2014 letter to Mayor Rivera.

10. Following the issuance of Mayor Rivera’s January 15, 2014 letter, nurse Brian Zahn, a bargaining unit member, expressed concerns to the City regarding the safety requirement that he wear a tie at work.

11. The City has not relieved Zahn of the requirement to wear a tie at work or any other specific dress code requirement set forth in Mayor Rivera’s January 15, 2014 letter regarding the City’s dress code policy. The City has permitted Zahn to not wear a tie at work and has not disciplined him for his failure to wear a tie.

12. Article VII, Section b of the CBA provides as follows:
The City will provide a parking sticker for the nurse’s car to enable the nurse(s) to park in the area of City Hall during the course of their duties. To be used on days the nurse(s) must travel in the field, otherwise parking in the garage.

13. Prior to January 15, 2014, the City provided Public Health Nurses with parking placards enabling them to use parking spaces in the area of City Hall at no cost on days when the Public Health Nurses must travel in the field.

14. On January 15, 2014, Mayor Rivera issued a memorandum to all City employees regarding employee parking. Mayor Rivera’s January 15, 2014 letter regarding employee parking provided the following:

City employees are highly encouraged to park at the Buckley Municipal Garage at a reduced rate. For more information on obtaining a parking pass for the Buckley Municipal Garage, please contact . . . Employees are expected not to park in parking spaces and utilize municipal garage or surfaced lots at your own expense.

If you are utilizing your vehicle or a City owned vehicle to conduct official business you will not park in metered spaces for a duration of more than 15 minutes. The exception to this mandate is fire and police vehicles. If applicable, discontinue from using City placards.

15. The City’s January 15, 2014 parking policy applied to the Association nurse in the bargaining unit. Subsequent to the Association filing its prohibited practice charge in this matter, the City reinstituted a placard system for certain City employees, including the Association bargaining unit nurse.

16. The City did not provide the Association with notice or an opportunity to bargain over the decision to eliminate Public Health Nurses’ use of parking placards or the impacts of that decision prior to January 15, 2014.

17. On April 29, 2014, the Association filed the prohibited practices charge with the DLR that is the subject of this case.

DECISION

The City violated the Law when it unilaterally implemented a dress code and changed a parking policy without providing the Association with notice and an opportunity to bargain to resolution or impasse over the decisions and impacts of the decisions on employee terms and conditions of employment.

Dress Codes

A public employer violates Section 10(a)(5) and, derivatively, 10(a)(1) of the Law when it unilaterally changes an existing condition of employment or implements a new condition of employment involving a mandatory subject of bargaining without first giving its employees' exclusive bargaining representative notice and an opportunity to bargain to resolution or impasse. Commonwealth of Massachusetts v. Labor Relations Commission, 404 Mass. 124 (1989); School Committee of Newton v. Labor Relations Commission, 388 Mass. 557 (1983). The Commonwealth Employment Relations Board (CERB) has held that grooming standards are a mandatory subject of bargaining. Town of Dracut, 7 MLC 1342, MUP-3699 (September 30, 1980) (town unilaterally implemented standards restricting police officer hair length, beards, and mustaches in violation of the Law.) The CERB has also found that the Law requires employers to give unions notice and an opportunity to bargain before implementing a dress code that governs wearing pins and other accoutrements on uniforms. Sheriff of Worcester County, 27 MLC 103, 106, MUP-1910 (January 11, 2001) (Sheriff altered practice of allowing bargaining unit members to wear various pins on their uniforms, including union insignia pins.) The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) has held that the implementation of a dress code is a mandatory subject of bargaining and that a change in dress code without giving the union an opportunity to bargain violates Section 8(a)(5) of the National Labor Relations Act. Transportation Enterprises, Inc. 240 NLRB 551, 560 (February 5, 1979). See also St. Luke's Hospital, 314 NLRB 434, 440 (1994); Public Service Company of New Mexico, 337 NLRB No. 31 (2001) (appropriate wearing apparel at the workplace is a mandatory bargaining subject). The significance of appearance in the workplace underscores the value of dress codes as a mandatory subject of bargaining. See generally, Karl E. Klare, Power/Dressing: Regulation of Employee Appearance, 26 New Eng. L. Rev. 1395, 1426, 1447 (Summer 1992) (noting dress codes as a mandatory subject of bargaining and discussing the collectively bargained dress code as an approach to appearance regulation that enhances autonomy, welfare, and fairness regarding appearance practices in the workplace.)

Here, the City required employees to dress in “office attire,” while carving out exceptions for staff scheduled to perform duties that would damage professional clothing. The Mayor’s January 15, 2014 letter to employees prohibited jeans, shorts, T-shirts and specifically required male employees working in an office environment to wear a tie as the City “strives to offer its citizens a professional atmosphere to conduct business.” The City had not previously adopted a formal dress code applicable to any bargaining unit members of the Association. There is no dispute that the City has permitted an Association bargaining unit member to not wear a tie at work and has not disciplined him for his failure to wear a tie, yet the City has not absolved the bargaining unit member from the requirements of the dress code, nor provided the Association with notice and an opportunity to bargain over a dress code prior to implementation.

The CERB and the NLRB hold that dress codes are a mandatory subject of bargaining, thus prior to implementing a dress code an employer is required to provide the Association notice and an opportunity to bargain to resolution or impasse. See Sheriff of Worcester County, 27 MLC at 106; Public Service Company of New Mexico, 337 NLRB...
No. 31. The City failed to comply with the Law in this instance. While the City argues that other states do not require bargaining over the adoption of a dress code that requires only modest changes in the standard of dress in a professional workplace, Chapter 150E requires employers to provide notice and an opportunity to bargain over changes to a condition of employment concerning employee appearance and dress in the workplace. Town of Dracut, 7 MLC 1342; Sheriff of Worcester County, 27 MLC at 106. Because appearance and dress codes in the workplace have a direct impact on employment conditions that matter to employees, they constitute mandatory subjects of bargaining. Here, there is no dispute that the City unilaterally implemented a dress code on January 15, 2014. For the above reasons, I find that the City violated the Law by implementing a dress code without providing the Association prior notice and an opportunity to bargain to resolution or impasse over the decision and impacts of the decision on employee terms and conditions of employment.

Parking Policies

Section 6 of the Law provides, in relevant part, "[t]hat the employer and the exclusive bargaining representative shall . . . negotiate in good faith with respect to wages, hours, standards of productivity and performance, and any other terms and conditions of employment." An employer's failure to bargain in good faith constitutes a prohibited practice under Section 10(a)(5) of the Law. The CERB has consistently held that inherent in the duty to bargain is the obligation of the employer to refrain from changing established terms and conditions of employment without first bargaining with the exclusive representative. Town of North Andover, 1 MLC 1103, 1106, MUP-529 (September 3, 1974); City of Boston, 3 MLC 1450, 1457, MUP-2646 (February 4, 1977); Boston School Committee, 4 MLC 1912, 1915, MUP-2611 (April 27, 1978). The CERB has specifically determined that free employee parking is a mandatory subject of bargaining.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, 27 MLC 11, 13, SUP-4378 (August 24, 2000); Commonwealth of Massachusetts, 9 MLC 1634, 1638, SUP-2513 (February 9, 1983).

Article VII, Section b of the parties’ CBA states that: “[t]he City will provide a parking sticker for the nurse’s car to enable the nurse(s) to park in the area of City Hall during the course of their duties. To be used on days the nurse(s) must travel in the field, otherwise parking in the garage.” Prior to January 15, 2014, the City provided the nurses with parking placards enabling them to use parking spaces in the area of City Hall at no cost on days when the nurses must travel in the field. On January 15, 2014, the City’s Mayor eliminated the nurses’ use of parking placards without providing the Association with prior notice or an opportunity to bargain to resolution or impasse over the decision to eliminate the parking placards and the impacts of that decision on employee terms and conditions of employment. While the parties do not dispute that the City reinstituted a placard system for certain City employees, including the Union bargaining unit, subsequent to the Union filing its Charge in this matter, the City failed to provide the Union with notice or an opportunity to bargain over the decision to eliminate the use of parking placards or the impacts of that decision prior to January 15, 2014. Therefore, I find that the City violated the Law as alleged.

CONCLUSION

Based on the record and for the reasons explained above, I conclude that the City violated Section 10(a)(5) and, derivatively, Section 10(a)(1) of the Law when it unilaterally implemented a dress code and changed a parking policy on January 15, 2014.

REMEDY

Section 11 of the Law grants the CERB broad authority to fashion appropriate orders to remedy a public employer’s unlawful conduct. Labor Relations Commission v. Everett, 7 Mass. App. Ct. 826 (1979). When an employer fails to bargain, the usual remedy includes an order to bargain, and to return the parties to the positions they would have been in if the violations had not occurred. Town of Dennis, 12 MLC 1027, 1033, MUP-5247 (June 21, 1985).

ORDER

Wherefore, based on the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that the City of Lawrence shall:

1. Cease and desist from:
   a. Failing and refusing to bargain in good faith with the Association over the decision to implement a dress code and the impacts of that decision on bargaining unit members’ terms and conditions of employment.
   b. Failing and refusing to bargain in good faith with the Association over the decision to change a parking policy and the impacts of that decision on bargaining unit members’ terms and conditions of employment.
   c. In any like manner, interfering with, restraining and coercing its employees in any right guaranteed under the Law.

2. Take the following affirmative action that will effectuate the purpose of the Law:
   a. Rescind the formal dress code the Mayor implemented on January 15, 2014.
   b. Upon request of the Association, bargain in good faith to impasse or resolution with the Association over the decision to implement a formal dress code and the impacts of that decision on bargaining unit members’ terms and conditions of employment.
   c. Restore all terms of the free parking policy benefit for all bargaining unit members as in effect prior to the City’s unilateral change thereto.
d. Upon request of the Association, bargain in good faith to impasse or resolution with the Association over the decision to change a parking policy and the impacts of that decision on bargaining unit members’ terms and conditions of employment.

e. Make whole employees for economic losses suffered, if any, as a direct result of the City’s actions, plus interest on any sums owed at the rate specified in M.G.L. c. 231, Section 6I, compounded quarterly.

f. Sign and post immediately in conspicuous places where employees usually congregate or where notices to employees are usually posted, including electronically, if the City customarily communicates to its employees via intranet or email, and maintain for a period of thirty (30) consecutive days thereafter signed copies of the attached Notice to Employees.

g. Notify the DLR in writing of the steps taken to comply with this decision within thirty (30) days of the steps taken by the City to comply with the Order.
